BEAUTY RAPS CANDLER; TO ASK BIG SUM

Mrs. de Bouchelle, Divorcee, Makes Public Letter Written to Millionaire, Asking Him to Retract as "Man"

Damage Suit Demanding "A Staggering Sum," Believed to Be Indicated As Result of the Broken Engagement

By H. C. HAMILTON, International News Service Staff Correspondent

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 12.—Demanding that he reveal the name of the person who told him that she had invited two traveling salesmen to visit her at an Atlanta hotel, Mrs. Onizima de Bouchelle, New Orleans beauty, who on Tuesday announced she had broken her engagement to Asa G. Candler, Atlanta millionaire, today made public a letter to the aged capitalist. The letter was written on September 28. The letter follows:

"My attorney informs me that yesterday you refused to divulge the name of the man in Atlanta who you claim to have visited me there in my room for immoral purposes. Do you expect me to let this hideous slander go unpunished? I'll publish it to the whole world, and we will see if the world is as credulous as you seem to be. If there are any such men, and I certainly do not believe there are, who make such statements, they have been paid to do it, and they shall go to the penitentiary along with those who hired them. CLUMSY CONSPIRACY DECLARES WOMAN.

"This is a clumsy conspiracy that imposes on nobody but you. Why did it come up in Atlanta right at this time; in fact, just in time to stop your coming to Reno for our wedding on the 20th? Why does it come up in Atlanta at all, except that it is distant from my home and friends, and where it will be harder for me to meet perjury and hired assassins?" "My attorney stated you said the man was a traveling salesman. That is a respectable class. I'll call on the traveling salesman of the South to protect me as an innocent, defenseless woman from a dog, a cur, who is the tool of my enemies. "You must divulge the name of this person. Unless you do, I'll act on the assumption that there is no such person, and that you have been too willing to be imposed upon. APPEALS TO CANDLER AS MAN OF HONOR.

"Besides, you are a Christian gentleman. As a Christian gentleman, as a man of honor, can you treat a helpless woman this way? You know I have not a single male relative in the world. I am not appealing to you as my promised husband, and natural protector, but just as a man. Are you willing to see me treated this way in your city, in your home, where you are all powerful? Oh, no, can you think for a minute that I ought to think for this insult in silence and humbly steal away into some remote place to hide the shame of a woman cast aside because she is not supposed to be a good woman? I'll never do it. "I entreat you, by our friendship, in the name of the feelings of affection that have existed between us, to go more deeply into this matter. You will find it false. It is a wicked, vicious attempt to destroy an innocent woman. If you will not comply with this request, I will come to Atlanta at the risk of public misconception and against every inclination, for I cannot and will not allow myself to be placed in this position. "All I ask is plain justice."

DIVORCE EXPECTED TO SUE FOR SLANDER.

Indications were today that a damage suit asking for a staggering sum will be filed shortly by attorneys for Mrs. Onizima de Bouchelle against Candler, who has often been referred to as the "richest man in the South."

Counsel for the New Orleans beauty announced today that Mrs. de Bouchelle will return tonight to New Orleans, but that Harry Gamble of New Orleans, her personal attorney, will remain here to consider legal steps. It is not doubted that these legal steps will carry the sensational affair, which so far has been conducted by means of statements, into the courts. What the nature of the suit will be is

Auto Victim Dying

MRS. JOHN CONANT LYNCH, prominent Berkeley clubwoman and charity worker, who is not expected to live as a result of an accident yesterday.

MRS. J. C. LYNCH BELIEVED DYING

Injuries Suffered by Society Woman in Auto Crash May Be Fatal.

BERKELEY, Oct. 12.—Mrs. John Conant Lynch, 60 years old, one of the best known clubwomen and philanthropic workers in the state, is at the point of death today at Temple Hospital as the result of injuries sustained yesterday afternoon when her automobile was rammed by a fire truck at Russell street and Shattuck avenue. Small hope is held for Mrs. Lynch's recovery by Dr. H. N. Rowell and Dr. S. H. Buteau, attending physicians. Mrs. Lynch's skull is crushed and she also suffered internal injuries. She has not regained consciousness since the accident. Mrs. Lynch's husband, a San Francisco attorney and former banker, arrived this morning from Los Angeles. Ray Templeton, fireman of No. 1 Truck Company, who was thrown from the fire truck, is suffering from a badly wrenched knee, several broken bones and severe abrasions and lacerations. He also is at Temple Hospital, where his injuries, while declared to be painful, are not considered serious. Yesterday's accident occurred when fire apparatus was on the way to a fire at Woolsey street and Shattuck avenue. Mrs. Lynch, driving east on Russell street, failed to clear the fire engine and, according to witnesses, drove directly around a parked automobile which had stopped to allow the fire equipment to pass. Mrs. Lynch's machine was caught in the extreme front and hurled a distance of 50 feet. She was pinned under the wreckage. After striking the automobile the steering gear of the fire truck broke and the big machine careened across the sidewalk, crashed into the Herbert Gray Automobile Company's store, breaking plate glass windows and tearing out a paneled door. The truck then continued on the sidewalk for 20 feet. The truck was stopped by a high tension power pole, which was snapped off at the base by the impact. Mrs. Lynch, the injured woman, resides at 1845 University avenue. A member of Town and Gown club of Berkeley and Ebell club of Oakland, Mrs. Lynch was a leading figure in club circles of the State, and at one time was president of the Second district, California Federation of Women's Clubs. She was a member of Sierra Chapter, D. A. R., of Berkeley, and its former president.

GREECE WILL SIGN TURK ARMISTICE

Mudania Protocol Accepted and Evacuation of Thrace to Begin Under Conditions as Stipulated in Agreement

First Bands of Hellenic Nationalists Begin Retreat; Allies to Enter and Turn Province Over to Moslems

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 12.—(By the Associated Press).—Four thousand Turks crossed the newly-defined boundary at Alvan, North of Darfieh, on the Island Peninsula, this morning and advanced some miles. General Harrington sent an airplane to warn the offending commander against trespassing on the neutral zone.

PARIS, Oct. 12.—(By the Associated Press).—Greece has decided to sign the Mudania armistice convention and evacuate Thrace, according to the conditions stipulated in that document, the French foreign office was officially informed today.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 12.—(United Press).—Evacuation of Eastern Thrace by Greek civilians, as provided by the Mudania armistice, was under way today. The first little bands of Hellenic Nationalists, realizing that it is useless to wait until Saturday night, when the terms of the armistice actually go into effect, were moving their belongings out of the war province.

The Greeks have two weeks to leave the territory they were awarded at the end of the World War and lost because of the stinging defeat of their armies at the hands of Mustafa Kemal's Turkish Nationalists. ALLIES TO ENTER AFTER GREEKS LEAVE. On the heels of the Greeks, the allies will enter and turn Thrace over to 3000 members of the Turkish gendarmerie. It was believed here that the place and date for the permanent peace parley would be announced by the parties to the armistice soon. After this conference is held there will probably be a meeting of the League of Nations and steps will be taken for the guarantee of the internationalization of the straits of the Dardanelles.

NEW SEEDS OF WAR MAY BE SOWN.

BY LIA. PERIODICAL NEWS SERVICE. LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE. ATHENS, Oct. 12.—"The evacuation of Thrace by Greece will probably sow the seeds of a new war, perhaps not far in the future," declared Minister Cannel Oupoi today. News of the Near East armistice was received by the Greek public with resignation. Newspapers had prepared the public by saying an armistice was to be expected. They referred to it as an "unavoidable evil." A decree of martial law was drawn up and submitted to King George, but has not yet been put in force, following belief that news of the Near East armistice might lead to rioting and martial law may be necessary.

SHIP BOOZE RULE WILL BE TESTED

Temporary Restraining Order Is Issued By N. Y. Federal Judge.

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—(By the Associated Press).—Federal Judge Learned Hand today granted a temporary restraining order prohibiting H. C. Smart, acting collector of the port, Ralph A. Day, federal prohibition director for New York, and John C. Appleby, chief prohibition officer, from putting in to effect the federal order to seize ships and liquor under the Daugherty prohibition order. The order was granted on application of the International Mercantile Marine Corporation, acting for the American lines included in that corporation. It specifically affects the steamers Finland and St. Paul. The order will be in force. Judge Hand said, until a hearing scheduled for October 17.

By W. H. A. ATKINS, International News Service Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—Attorneys for the Anchor and Cunard steamship companies today were expected to confer with Attorney General Daugherty with respect to their efforts to set aside the ruling of the department of justice barring intoxicating liquor from foreign ships in American waters. The attorney general and his associates are prepared to make a test case of the proceedings brought by the Cunard line so that the way may be cleared for the United States Supreme Court to render a final decision on the validity of the Daugherty opinion. Officials of the department of justice were of the opinion that a temporary order would be issued in New York, restraining prohibition officials from seizing liquor stocks within the three-mile zone. If such an order is granted, the attorney general will be required to show why a permanent injunction should not be granted and will immediately begin the fight which will end only with a decision by the Supreme Court.

RADIO TELLS TALE OF SEA DISASTER

First News of Blaze on City of Honolulu Flashed By Operator Bell, Youth, Who Is Oakland Resident

Heroism of Man at Key On Burning Steamer Unwittingly Told in Messages; He Is the Last to Leave

This is the history of how W. P. Bell, an Oakland man, chief radio operator on the ill-fated City of Honolulu, who unwittingly flashed to the world the story of his own heroism from the radio room of the burning steamer, 500 miles off the coast of San Pedro. It has been written in maritime history that the captain of the vessel is the last to leave in time of distress, but today while the captain of the City of Honolulu made his last entries in the log, Operator Bell was still in his radio room sparking the news to the entire country.

Radio experts, amateur and professional, first learned the story of the City of Honolulu when the "S. O. S." messages began to fly through the air. This was at 5:30. The location of the vessel was given, and immediate help was asked. The radio was then silent until 5:30, when a second S. O. S. went out with the additional information that "a very bad fire is raging." Bell was now on the air. "Passengers and crew taking to boats."

"At 9:00 the radio sparked: "Leaving ship any minute now." "At 9:03 Bell tapped out another message: "Passengers and crew taking to boats."

"The air was silent then until 10:01 while radio fans conjured up in their mind the scene aboard the City of Honolulu ablaze in mid-ocean with full steam ahead to get to the distressed vessel within two hours. Then at one minute after ten this message arrived: "All left but Captain Lester, chief officer, chief engineer and myself."

At 10:12 the last message arrived: "Good-by all."

BELL LIVES WITH MOTHER IN OAKLAND.

Bell lives with his mother at 5205 Cole street, Oakland. He is 24 years old, and this was his first trip on the City of Honolulu, and his first trip as first operator. He was formerly second operator on the liner President Lincoln. During the war he served as an aviator in the flying corps.

H. B. Hancock, Venice, Cal., second wireless operator, and N. C. Kummer, North Yakima, Wash., third operator, are Bell's assistants. All are employees of the Radio Corporation of America.

Prominent Persons Passengers on Ship

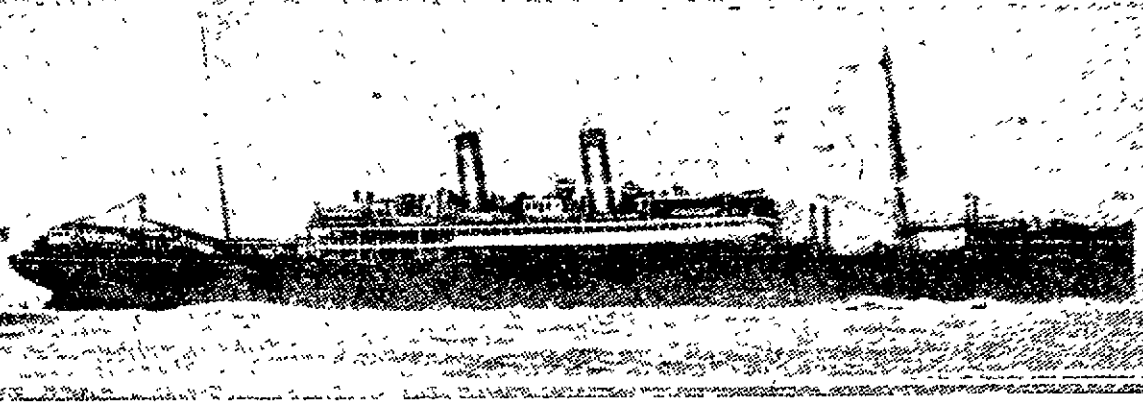

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 12.—John J. Shimmers, a passenger on the City of Honolulu, is a retired capitalist who came here a decade ago from Chicago. He is prominently identified with the Los Angeles Athletic Club and has extensive realty holdings here. Paul Whitsett, listed as one of the passengers, is at his home at Van Nuys, Cal., having returned from Hawaii a week ago. His father, W. P. Whitsett, his mother, Mrs. Sarah Whitsett, and his sister, Katherine, were aboard the vessel. Paul Whitsett is president of the Bank of Van Nuys, and is a large operator in agricultural and financial affairs in this section. The Whitsett family went to Honolulu on a recent excursion, and the three who were on the City of Honolulu extended their stay. The name of "Miss May Mummert," appearing on the Honolulu passenger list, is believed to have been confused with that of Dr. Austine J. Mummert, physician here, who was in Honolulu and believed intended to return on the City of Honolulu.

NEARLY 300 PICKED UP FROM SMALL BOATS BY STEAM YACHT CASIANA

Captain, Mate, Chief Engineer and Wireless Operator Stick to Ship Until Driven to Boats by Blaze

WAS ONCE GERMAN LINER

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 12.—At 2:40 p. m. the freighter, West Farrallone was within sight of the burning steamer, City of Honolulu, according to a radiogram picked up by the Federal Telegraph Company's station here.

"The vessel is a mass of fire and smoke," the radio operator on the West Farrallone reported.

At 2:55 p. m. the Federal company's station received a second message saying the West Farrallone was within twenty miles of the Honolulu, and already had sighted several small boats on the surface, apparently drifting.

SAN PEDRO, Cal., Oct. 12.—(United Press).—All hands from the burned liner City of Honolulu are safe, according to a radio message received by Ralph J. Chandler, general manager of the Los Angeles Steamship Company, from the yacht Casiana, which is standing by at the scene of the disaster.

The Casiana, owned by Edward L. Doheny, oil magnate, left San Pedro on Monday for Honolulu with its owner and E. McKee, Los Angeles harbor commissioner, on board. She reported by wireless at 10:30 that she was standing by the doomed ship, in a calm sea and in clear weather. All hands had left the ship.

According to Chandler, the City of Honolulu had seventy-six passengers and 192 members of the crew aboard on leaving the Hawaiian Islands. She had a lifeboat accommodation for 730 persons.

SAN PEDRO, Cal., Oct. 12.—(By Associated Press).—A message received at the office of the Los Angeles Steamship Company, here from Captain Lester, said that he and the chief engineer were standing by the ship. The message was timed 10:50, about a half hour after it was reported the vessel had been abandoned.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 12.—(United Press). Seventy-six passengers and a crew of 192 officers and men of the palatial Pacific liner City of Honolulu were afloat today on the trackless waters of the Pacific in flimsy lifeboats, while they watched the burning of the giant ship.

At 10 a. m. the following radiogram, picked out of the air by the Radio Corporation of America's station here, told the story:

"All left but captain, chief officer, chief engineer and radio operator. They are standing by."

It meant that the flames, first reported at 5:30 a. m. today, had constantly gained headway until the scores of passengers had been ordered into the small boats and the night for life had started.

The steamer Enterprise, the nearest vessel to the scene, at that hour was believed rushing to the rescue.

True to the traditions of the sea, Captain H. R. Lester, well known at every port on the Pacific, had stood by his ship and with him were First Officer William R. Brust, the chief engineer and the radio operator. It was believed that they would remain in the hope of help arriving and to keep the radio in operation in order to direct rescue ships to the scene until the flames would drive them overseas, to whatever fate it might mean. The four officers were unable to maintain their positions aboard the ship for long, for at 10:12 the Radio Corporation of America picked up the words: "All hands gone."

CUTTER TAMAROA IS ORDERED OUT TO BURNING SHIP

Coast Guard Vessel at San Pedro Leaves Port At Two O'Clock.

SAN PEDRO, Cal., Oct. 12.—(By United Press).—The U. S. Coastguard cutter Tamaroa left San Pedro at two o'clock this afternoon for the scene of the City of Honolulu disaster, under orders from headquarters of the coast guard, at San Francisco.

The Tamaroa is commanded by Lieutenant W. K. Thompson.

With a speed of ten knots per hour, the Tamaroa will reach the scene late Saturday, according to her captain. The City of Honolulu's position is given at 670 miles southwest of San Pedro.

If the City of Honolulu is still afloat, the Tamaroa will attempt to tow her in a port.

SCHOOL BOARDS RESIGN TO EVADE DAMAGE SUITS

Ruling by Webb Fixing Liability For Playground Accidents Causes Action.

The board of trustees of the Lodi Union grammar school has resigned in view of the recent ruling by Attorney General U. S. Webb that trustees may be held liable for damages for injuries sustained by pupils using school playground equipment.

Simultaneously it was learned that the Healdsburg board of education at Santa Rosa voted to resign within ten days unless the members receive a guarantee that they will suffer no personal liability as a result of the ruling.

$20,000 SUIT STARTS TROUBLE. These were the latest developments today in the controversy which started yesterday when a $20,000 suit was filed against the school board at Oakdale, following the death of a 12-year-old girl in the school playground, and which resulted in resignations by members of the board and the closing of several schools.

The action by the Lodi board of trustees was taken at a meeting last night, and a letter containing the blanket resignation was mailed today to County Superintendent of Schools Effie Anderson. The board's resignation will take effect October 15, according to the agreement reached at the meeting. Members of the board are J. B. Keller, W. H. Faut and George Keagle.

600 CHILDREN AFFECTED. More than 600 children attend the Healdsburg schools which will be closed as a result of the decision by the board of education unless they receive the guarantee against possible litigation.

The opinion handed down by Webb in connection with the suit brought in Oakdale against the school board, is said to have been misinterpreted. Expert legal opinion secured yesterday held that only deliberate and conscious negligence can make a school trustee financially liable for accidents in school playgrounds.

BURNING SHIP'S PASSENGERS FLEE IN OPEN BOATS

Radio Tells of Preparations of Menaced Throng to Face Sea Perils.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 12.—(By United Press).—Passengers aboard the palatial Pacific liner City of Honolulu today faced the perils of the trackless sea in open boats, according to the late radio advices received here.

After the City of Honolulu was reported afloat some 500 miles west of Los Angeles at 5:30 a. m. today, no word of her was received until 8:48 a. m., when the radio here picked up this message from the Honolulu to the liner Enterprise: "Am lowering boat—Are you coming?"

Fifteen minutes later, the message was sent:

"Leaving ship any minute now." The answer from the Enterprise was not made out by the stations here and her position was not definitely known. It was believed, however, that she could reach the scene in a matter of a few hours and undoubtedly was rushing to the rescue at all possible speed.

No reports which would indicate what other vessels are in the vicinity were immediately available. The liner Manoa left San Francisco yesterday and may be within 76 hours of the spot where the Honolulu is burning.

At 9:30 a. m., the Honolulu's radio seemed silent, or at least had not been picked up here. This was taken to mean that the vessel had been abandoned.

The disaster conjured pictures of harrowing experiences for the scores of passengers aboard the vessel. It meant that they must drift, hundreds of miles from shore, in small lifeboats, carrying groups of ten or fifteen persons until such time as help could reach them. They could have no certainty of their hour of rescue.

It meant the perils of transfer over sides from the burning ship into the frail lifeboats under the rule of the sea. "Women and children first," men would stand on deck and watch their wives and families being pulled away, with no certainty as to when would come the hour of reunion.

The steamer was returning from her first voyage to the Islands, having formerly been engaged in South American trade. Before that, she was an army transport and previous to the war plied between New York and German ports under the flag of the North German Lloyd line as the Friedrich der Grosse. During the war, the vessel was known as the Huron.

Persons here familiar with the steamer said she carried about twelve boats with a passenger capacity of thirty each, which might be increased in an emergency. This would care for a total of probably more than 400 passengers and crew, which, it is certain, meant sufficient boat capacity for those aboard.

Captain E. R. Lester of San Francisco commands the City of Honolulu. William R. Brust is first officer.

The vessel left Honolulu October 7 and was due to arrive in San Pedro Saturday.

Members of Crew on City of Honolulu

SAN PEDRO, Oct. 12.—(United Press).—Following is a list of the crew of the City of Honolulu as given to the United Press by the officials of the Los Angeles Steamship company.

Big Army Balloon Kills Salton Ducks

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS. LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE. MUNDO, Oct. 12.—The flight of the army dirigible C-2, from Ross field, Arcadia, Cal., back to its home station at Langley field, Newport News, Va., brought death to a number of ducks which contested with it the right of way over Salton Sea, near here.

The noise of the motor as the huge bulk of the blimp was clearly outlined in the moonlight apparently disturbed the thousands of ducks gathered at Salton Sea, many evidently having flown against it or having been overtaken in their flight from it.

Why uses must be found for more POWER

Where the petulant Pit River and its tributaries shove their fretful way through barren volcanic deposits, only to broaden out and indolently mope in untillable valleys the P G and E is rapidly developing the most promising hydro-electric power district in California.

Pit River Power Projects of the P G and E

POWER HOUSES	HORSEPOWER
Hat Creek No. 1	16,756
Hat Creek No. 2	16,756
Pit River No. 1	93,834
Pit River No. 2	23,458
Pit River No. 3	90,483
Pit River No. 4	67,024
Pit River No. 5	294,906
Total	603,217

Transmission Lines

Pit River No. 1 to Vaca Substation 102 miles, 220,000 volts.

Four circuits, each 167,560 horsepower. Combined capacity 670,000 horsepower.

Already three plants, known as Hat Creek No. 1 and No. 2, and Pit No. 1, are being operated.

When the District's power is fully developed in conformity with well-made plans, an aggregated installed capacity of 600,000 horsepower will have been saved from Nature's wasteful hands.

Visualize 700 passenger trains of 10 cars each being operated at 45 miles an hour, and you will realize the amount of energy that will be developed in this district alone each day. Imagine a belt a mile wide, running over a pulley at the rate of a mile a minute, and some conception of the driving force procurable in this one region will be had.

The most of this potential power will be in addition to the power already being generated by the P G and E with its 28 hydro-electric and 4 steam-electric power plants.

As there is now a considerable surplus of power in "Superior" California it becomes apparent that attention must be immediately directed to developing uses for more power if the best interests of the community are to be served.

Yacht Goes to Ship's Rescue

EDWARD L. DOHENY, whose yacht, the Casiana, is reported to be standing by the burning vessel, City of Honolulu.

Casiana Can Easily
Care for Rescued

SAN DIEGO, Oct. 12 (United Press).—The Casiana is an all-steel yacht, 254 feet in length and of 1227 gross tons. She is reported to be one of the most palatial ships afloat and can easily care for the 258 persons from the burned steamer it is declared.

All Ships Nearby Steam to Rescue

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 12.—(By International News Service.)—

"Goodbye to all."

This message, flashed by Radio Operator Bell to the Radio Corporation here at 10:12 o'clock this morning, signaled that all aboard the steamship City of Honolulu had left the burning vessel.

Eleven minutes before, another message had been received. It read: "All left but Captain Lester, chief officer, chief engineer and myself."

The 74 passengers on board and the 192 officers and crew started to leave the vessel at 9:03. Fifteen minutes previously the boats had been lowered.

The signature "Sparks" to the last radio message is one commonly adopted by radio operators under such circumstances and it is not known which of the three Radio Corporation men on the vessel sent the last word. The three operators are W. P. Bell, 5205 Cole avenue, Oakland; H. P. Hancock, 2327 Houella street, Venice, Cal.; and M. C. Kunkler, 309 West Nachis avenue, North Yakima, Wash.

PAID FOR HEROISM.
Favorable comment of their heroism in standing by to the last was heard in marine circles. All vessels on the southern run between Honolulu and San Pedro at once began racing for the rescue, with the Enterprise in the lead.

Advices to the Matson Navigation Company, owners of the Enterprise, stated earlier in the day that the rescue vessel was between 150 and 200 miles from the point where the passengers and crew of the City of Honolulu took to their boats.

SEA NOW CALM.
Reports to the Matson company stated that while the weather had been rough and the sea turbulent for the past few days, it had moderated to the extent that small boats probably can ride safely until the arrival of rescue ships.

The United States transport Thomas, en route from Honolulu to San Francisco, reported she was about 250 miles from the scene of the fire and was making for the rescue at all speed. Her limit is about thirteen knots.

The Thomas later radioed, after computation of positions, that she would reach the scene of the fire by 1 a. m. She is making all speed possible, she reported.

A radio message to the Matson Navigation Company from the Enterprise, received at 11:30, but sent at 8 a. m., said she then believed it impossible to reach the City of Honolulu until daylight tomorrow. The message had been relayed by other vessels, and it was said communication with the Enterprise from shore was difficult.

THOMAS NEAR WRECK.
It was believed the Thomas would be the first to reach the passengers and crew, who sought safety in the small boats. No further word has come from the City of Honolulu following her abandonment, and it is not known whether she had gone down or whether she was still a blazing wreck.

The commander of the Pacific fleet at San Pedro and the commander of the eleventh district at San Diego, were advised of the situation in order that they could dispatch fast destroyers to the scene if practicable.

The destroyers, it was said, were all San Diego, and the matter of dispatching them was in the hands of Admiral Wells.

Long Beach Boy Is Menaced in Fire

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 12.—John Te Groen, 18, Long Beach high school youth, is among the persons who faced death today as a result of the breaking out of fire on board the steamer City of Honolulu, 500 miles out from here.

Te Groen is manager of the orchestra on board the vessel, and accepted the position when the vessel left for Honolulu in the hope of obtaining sufficient funds to pay for another year at school.

Te Groen in a postcard received today by his mother, Mrs. P. W. Te Groen, 1122 Daisy avenue, Long Beach, said that only 86 passengers were to return on the City of Honolulu.

At the offices of the Los Angeles Steamship company here it was said that no information is on hand as to the names of the passengers, the number of men in the crew or the cargo. Such information, it was declared, is available only at Honolulu, because the vessel was in harbor and efforts were made to obtain it from the Hawaiian city.

S. P. Trood of the local office said no radio telegram has been received from the stricken vessel.

MARTINEZ, Oct. 12.—The chambers of commerce of Contra Costa county give assurance that it will not rain Sunday—that radiant sunshine will be provided for the highway celebration and barbecue at Moraga.

The new Moraga boulevard, which opens up the sheltered Moraga valley that once was a grant from the Mexican government to Don Joaquin Moraga, is looked upon as another great stride in this campaign of promoting the county's interests.

Saturday night the carcasses for the barbecue will be roasting in the pits. At 1 o'clock Sunday the chef will be ready, with the assistance of the citizens of Moraga, to serve the meat and bread, with Spanish beans, to the thousands of visitors expected.

A baseball game has been added to the other attractions, such as horse riding, stunts and dancing. The various cities and towns of the county will turn out in force to help celebrate and to aid in entertaining the visitors.

ACCUSER OF PAL FAINTS AT QUIZ ON DUAL MURDER

Child Finds Knife, First
Tangible Clue in Deaths of Pastor, Woman.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Oct. 12.—Raymond Schneider, who accused his pal, Clifford Hayes, of murdering the Rev. Edward Wheeler Hall and Mrs. Eleanor Mills, collapsed in his cell today.

Schneider broke under the strain of constant inquisition, and fell over unconscious, it was announced at the Somerville jail, where he is held as a material witness in the Hayes case, who is charged with murder.

Schneider's condition is serious, physicians stated.

Walter Seaman, attorney for Schneider, stated that he was going to attempt to get his client free on bail. He complained that he has not been permitted by authorities to talk with Schneider alone.

CHILD FINDS KNIFE.
Discovery of a knife with which Mrs. Eleanor Mills' throat may have been cut, and severe goring of Nick Bahner, proprietor of Nix place—a drive—marked today's investigation of the Hall-Mills murder mystery.

Coupled with these developments came a strengthening of the popular movement to free Clifford Hayes, the suspect now under arrest. Even authorities responsible for his detention now doubt whether he had any culpable part in the tragedy at the Phillips farm.

A little child furnished investigators with their first tangible clue. John Lyons, aged 8, ran to his mother one afternoon following discovery of the crime, carrying a bloodstained potato knife he had picked up 125 feet from the scene of the killing of the Rev. Edward W. Hall and Mrs. Eleanor Mills, choir singer.

Mrs. Lyons, according to the police, did not wish to be drawn into the affair, and at first planned to throw the knife away. Later she decided to keep it, and last night it was placed in the hands of the prosecutor. It may serve to identify the slayer.

FATHER GRILLED.
Grilling of Bahner resulted from statements made by his daughter, Pearl Bahner, who is locked up in the same jail with him, on a charge of incriminating him.

She asserted her father had threatened to cut her throat, and that "nobody knows what might have happened" had he come upon any couple on the Phillips farm the night of the murder, when he was drunk and searching for Raymond Schneider, whom he accused of "going with" his daughter.

KATHLEEN NORRIS TO SPEAK.
Kathleen Norris, writer, will address the Christian Citizens' League this evening at the Brooklyn Presbyterian church.

Mrs. Norris, secretary of the California League of Women Voters, who was scheduled to give a brief review before the league of a number of the bills up for ratification on the bills up at the next election, will be unable to deliver an address because of illness.

STACKS OF CLOTHES STILL AT HOME

"Isn't Miss Adams the best looking thing. She always looks like she had been turned out of a bandbox. Every time I see her I get positively wild with jealousy. I always feel shabby and blown apart when I talk to her. She dresses beautifully, of course. She must have stacks of clothes."

"Indeed she has not. She always has that prosperous appearance, though, and it does give that impression. She is very careful with her clothes, however, and always gets everything to harmonize. And she is careful of details. It does give her a well groomed look."

"Yes, indeed. She is always so fresh and neat. But if she doesn't have stacks of clothes, the ones she does have are of such good quality that it makes one think she has more at home on the same order."

"Well, she buys very carefully. She selects one very good dress or suit and then gets her hat, gloves, shoes and all the rest. She doesn't buy very often, but she buys good things while she's at it. She does practically all her buying at Cherry's at 515 13th street. I met her there one day and she tells me they seem to have things in stock every time. And, of course, Cherry's allow one to buy on credit. She says that that drew her there at first. They ask one to make a small payment down on so much a month on the garment."

Cherry's store for men is at 523 13th street.—Advertisement.

Mrs. Bullitt was Miss Edith Selby, and has been the guest of her mother, Mrs. Prentiss Selby of Santa Rosa avenue, for several weeks.

ALL SOULS SCENE OF MARRIAGE.
All Souls' Episcopal church was the scene of a handsomely appointed wedding at 5:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, when Miss Ruth Claidin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Chaffin of Sacramento, became the bride of Baxter Rice Sharp, a San Francisco man. Rev. Richard M. Trelease, rector of that church, read the ritual before three hundred guests. Later a wedding dinner was served at the Hotel Oakland for the members of the two families.

At the church an arch of pink chrysanthemums and green was erected in the chancel with baskets of gorgeous autumn flowers and palms at either side of the altar. Bright lighting was in a subdued effect, for the many candles placed at each pew down the middle aisle and upon the altar.

The bridal gown was of white crepe and satin embroidered in seed pearls, and the bodice of rare

Women Workers "Too Busy" For Short Chat

By FRANCES MONTGOMERY

I knew there were mail clerks in the post office, but I did not know there were so many male clerks. There are forty women employed in the Oakland post office, and its branches. I have often stood on the outside looking in while the general delivery clerk looked through the Ms. but today I was behind those little barred windows, and I saw just about the busiest folks I ever watched work.

Uncle Sam's private secretaries are not all men, by a good way. In fact, they are mostly women.

Delivery window. There are women in the registry department. Women are at the head of the finance department, and the directory superintendent is a woman. In fact, women are employed in every department but those requiring actual manual labor.

There is Miss Lane, who is the head of the directory department. She has held this important position since 1905. Under her are several women who sort and place misdirected and insufficiently addressed mail.

A most responsible position in our post office has been filled for the past eighteen or twenty years by Miss White. She is the head of the general delivery department. This department requires expert care, for the registered mail is handled here.

Perhaps the most important positions are in the finance department. They are filled entirely by women.

And, of course, I wanted to know why.

"Well," said J. J. Rosborough, Oakland's postmaster, "during the war men were so scarce that we filled many of the vacant post office positions by employing women. Of course, women had been employed here before the war, but those who came in then have remained, as they had taken the civil service examinations."

"Were not the mail carriers scarce, too?" I asked.

"They were," answered the postmaster. "And it looked very much as if we would need a few women mail carriers as well. But," and right here our postmaster sought to wax facetious, "I suppose the department feared they might stop along the way to gossip, as women mail carriers were not allowed."

If the department had chosen some of its present efficient women employees for carriers during the war, am I sure there would have been no loitering along the way for gossip nor any other interference, for, try as I might, I could not pry one tiny word from them this morning.

Over mail bags and through mountains of packages did I pursue them to no avail. Willing? Oh, very willing they were, but quite too busy.

When women who have served and are serving in the service of the public and our government are so faithful in their duties that they are too busy to be interviewed and too modest to be sketched, I'll broadcast they've reached the highest point of efficiency, and that it's high time Uncle Sam and all of us knew just what part the women play in the running of our post offices.

MASQUE PARTY PLANNED.
ALAMEDA, Oct. 12.—Alameda Review Women's Benefit Association of Alameda, will hold a masquerade halloween party October 30, according to plans formulated at the regular session of the association. The affair is in charge of Mrs. Selma Anderson, commander.

The committee assisting her includes the Mesdames Ruby Trebyal, Lina Maffee, Jessie Hartley, Bertha Negley, Esther Lattin, Louis Pearson and Mrs. Selma Pardee.

Miss Penelope Jamieson recently entertained the young people's club at St. Paul's Episcopal church at her home on Wesley avenue in the Lakeside district. Refreshments were served at a later hour. The young hostess was assisted by a group of close friends.

'This Freedom' Is Cloying to Clubwomen

By EDNA B. KINARD.

"This Freedom," the novel with which A. S. Hutchinson has started the fiction line, will inspire the program of a special meeting of the fiction section of the College Women's Club on Monday afternoon, October 30. The book has seemed important enough to call together the score of university students of current literature for discussion of its pages. The author has undertaken to write the Q. E. D., to the problem that a woman may not at the same time be a success in the business, or professional world and in the home. Women leaders are frankly in disagreement with the argument and willing to debate this subject. Mrs. Nancy Barr Mavry, a club member and literary editor in San Francisco, will present the principal address before the College Club women at their special program.

Already the news has gone forth that Mrs. Evelyn is not in accord with the sentiments of Hutchinson regarding woman's sphere. Following her talk, an open forum has been announced by the club, in which all the members of the fiction section may participate.

The study for the regular meeting of the group on Monday afternoon will be given over to a review of "Babbalanza" (Sinclair Lewis). Mrs. Helen Verdi will present the paper.

Kathleen Norris, fictionist and lecturer, will be the first of the speakers tomorrow before the Oakland League of Women Voters, meeting in Aahmes Temple, Thirteenth and Harrison streets, at 2 p. m. Legislation as found in the Wright Bill will be subject for the talks. Mrs. Wright will speak in favor of the amendment. Horst will oppose the measure. Mrs. W. W. Robson will be chairman of the day.

Action on the constitutional amendment reducing the annual dues from $2.50 to $1.50 and abolishing the initiation fee will be taken at a business meeting preceding the program. Membership cards of last season will be honored this month. Mrs. C. E. Wilson is president of the local center.

Carp Roma, who has taken a studio in Fruitvale avenue; assemblyman T. B. Wright, author of the Wright bill, Miss Martha Ijames of Berkeley and Dr. Rudolph Coffee, chairman of the Alameda County branch of the Travelers Aid Society of California, will be the honored guests at the October meeting of the Fruitvale Woman's Club on Thursday of next week. The auditorium of the Fruitvale school will afford accommodations for the notable program.

Assemblyman Wright and Miss Ijames will review legislation which is being placed before the voters of the state at the November election. Dr. Coffee will outline the program of the society which he represents.

Welcome to the composer who attained international recognition before she returned to her birthplace to establish a permanent residence will be extended by her new neighbors next week. Mme. Roma will tell how a song is written.

Mrs. W. E. Gibson is president of the Fruitvale Club.

Section work will be featured by the National League for Women's Service which draws its big membership roll from about the bay during the season. Study classes in design were inaugurated in the San Francisco quarters on Monday night under the chairmanship of Miss Marea Van Vleet. A Spanish group has been organized to school auditorium.

The fourteenth anniversary of the founding of the Parent-Teacher Association in Washington school and the first anniversary of the Dads' Club inspired a joint celebration in the Shattuck avenue school house Tuesday night. More than 200 men and women of the community assembled about the dining tables in the school cafeteria. Ray, Edgar Gee and Mrs. Daisy Short, member of the board of education and a former president of the Washington P. T. A., were the principal speakers. The school orchestra rendered selections. Others who participated in the program were Mrs. W. C. Harper, solo; Fred Bishop, whistler; E. R. Edwards, reading; Mrs. MacGregor, the first president of the Mothers' Club; C. E. Nosler, president of the Club; and C. E. Hudspeh, principal, were heard in short addresses. The anniversary party concluded with an informal dance in the school auditorium.

WISE INVESTMENT OF SAVINGS HELD BIG NEED IN U. S.

Training in Conservation of Money Subject at Club Luncheon.

Intelligent investment of savings was the subject on which A. Everett Lees of San Francisco yesterday addressed the Knights of the Round Table at luncheon at the Hotel Oakland. Lees said in part:

"Our public schools teach our children how to make money, but fail to tell them what to do with their money after it is made. While the science of investment is not an exact science, it is today engaging the attention of the foremost minds of America. Americans know how to make money, but are deficient in the knowledge of how to conserve it."

"The man who has not learned how to save a portion of his earnings is headed toward a dependent old age. Children should be taught in the public schools that financial independence can only be gained through saving and through wise and conservative investment of savings. The great problem is how to make money from money, and the lack of instruction upon this important practical daily problem, a lack of knowledge of the simple principles of safe investment is costing the hard-working money earners of America hundreds of millions of dollars each year. Their lack of knowledge of these principles of investment that should be taught in the public schools renders them easy victims to unsafe speculation."

EX-KAISER WILL GIVE CHARITY ON MARRIAGE DAY

DOORN, Holland, Oct. 12.—(By the Associated Press).—For the first time during his four years of residence in Holland, former Emperor William is about to perform an act of munificence on a large scale. It is reported that on the occasion of his forthcoming marriage he will draw from the large store of dollars received from the United States for his memoirs a goodly sum which will be used for the relief of needy German children who are now being sheltered in Doorn.

It is said here that Field Marshal von Hindenburg probably will attend the wedding, but that General Ludendorff will be among those who fail to receive an invitation.

J. R. Bowish, Oakland man and past grand chief templar of the Grand Lodge of Washington, has been selected grand chief templar of California, International Order of Good Templars, according to a despatch from Los Angeles, where the sixty-third annual convention of the Grand Lodge of California came to a close last night.

Another Oaklander, John R. Bergstrom, grand treasurer of the organization, was honored by election. Mrs. Laura Olsen, also of Oakland, was selected as superintendent of juvenile work.

By a rising vote the organization adopted a resolution favoring the candidacy of Friend W. Richardson, Republican nominee for governor.

U. S. VETERANS' BUREAU EXPERTS END CONFERENCE

Twelfth District Officials Outline Efficiency Program For Aid.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 12.—The seventy business and medical experts of the United States veterans' bureau, twelfth district, will conclude their two-day conference today after outlining an efficiency program for the 40,000 soldier veterans in California, Nevada and Arizona. Marcus E. Lynch, chief of the administration division, is presiding over the meetings at the St. Francis hotel.

The subject matter of the conference has been based largely on the recent developments in the national conference of the veterans' bureau in Washington. All the district managers and chiefs of districts, including Major Louis T. Grant, manager of the twelfth district; Dr. Herbert C. Watts, chief of the medical division, and Elmer L. Shirell, chief of the rehabilitation division, attended the eastern meeting and spoke yesterday.

According to the reports submitted to the delegates, the establishment of the business organization in the San Francisco office has been productive of some noteworthy developments, listed as follows:

The sum of $12,000 is handled annually through the district office for the welfare of the veterans.

A comprehensive program has been started for the soldier-farmer and more than 200 wounded men have been aided in becoming independent farmers.

An agricultural training school has been established near Stockton.

Out of 1000 men trained 1000 veterans have been returned to regular employment.

The conference was also advised at the meeting yesterday that the first two houses in the bay district to be bought through the veterans' welfare fund out of the $2,000,000 voted by the legislature as a loan to enable wounded men to purchase home sites, homes and farms, have gone to J. A. Shuster of San Francisco and Robert V. Abarta of Oakland.

MAN, WIFE JAILED IN MURDER CASE

BAKERSFIELD, Oct. 12.—Mr. and Mrs. George Dillon were arrested here yesterday in connection with the slaying of Wallace Williams Jr., of Nevada City, at Tonopah, Nev. The Dillons were taken into custody by Under Sheriff Roy Newell and Deputy Sheriff Roy Dupes. Dillon was arrested at his Southern Pacific shops, and his wife, Lena Dillon, was placed under arrest in East Bakersfield, where she was working.

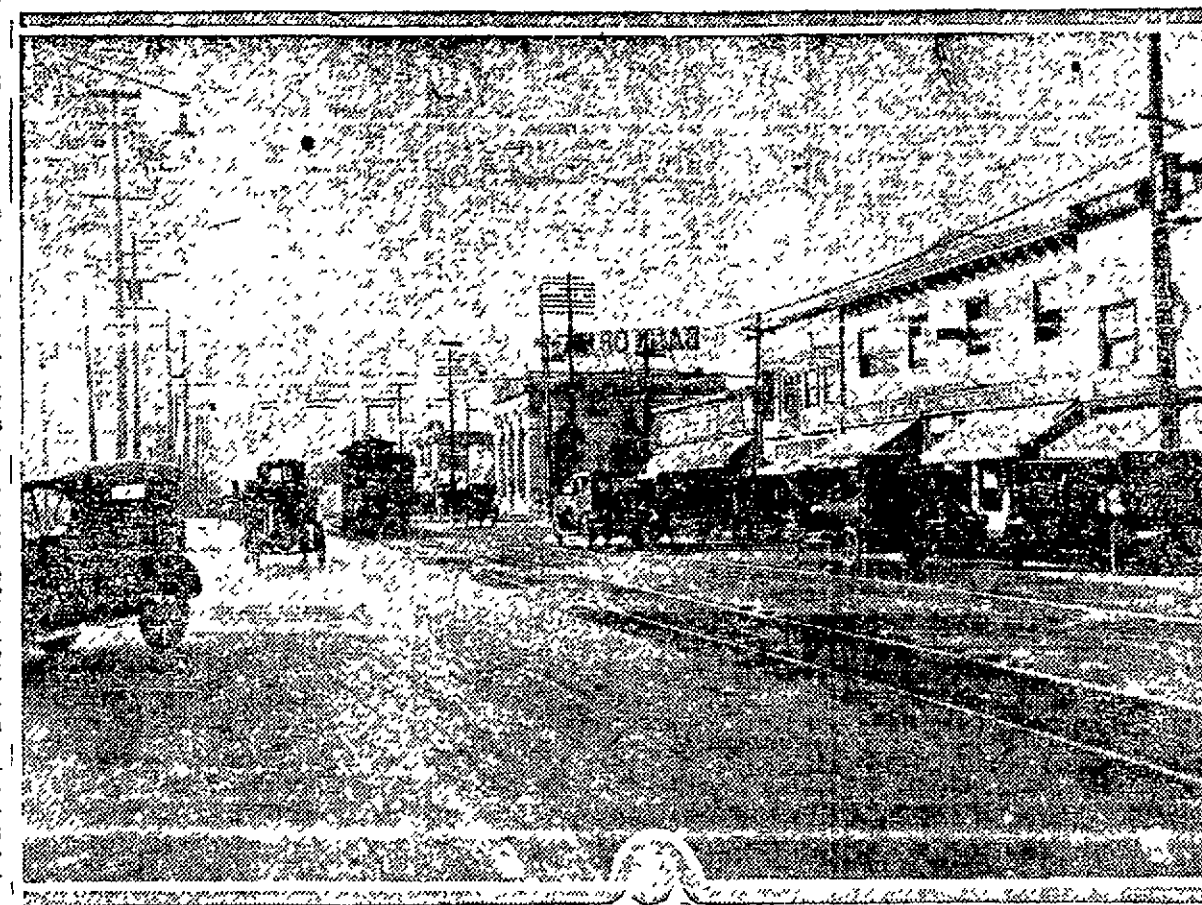

The couple are alleged to have old deputies who visited them in their cell at the county jail here that they left Tonopah some time ago and are reported to have gone from there to Mona, Nev., and hence to Bishop, Calif., where they remained for a couple of days before departing for this city. They have been here since September 27, it is reported.

Y. M. C. A. LUNCHEON.

"The Development of Personality" will be the subject of William Gullanders, general secretary of the Oakland Y. M. C. A., at the Friday Fellowship Luncheon tomorrow.

EAST SIDE VALUES ASSURED

East Fourteenth Street at Melrose, showing large volume of traffic which passes this point as well as General Electric plant and Schenectady Park to the East. Part of this traffic turns north at Seminary Avenue opposite Schenectady Park, but most of it is to and from points in Alameda county outside Oakland.

HEAVY TRAFFIC SHOWS GROWTH ON EAST SIDE

Travel Through Melrose Is Increasing At Decidedly Interesting Rate.

Observers of city growth are remarking on the rapid increase in traffic on East Fourteenth through Melrose and alongside Schenectady Park, which lies on the south side of this great thoroughfare at and adjoining Seminary Avenue, which is the most important north and south street east of Melrose.

This large volume of traffic is composed of two general classes, one of which consists of those who travel between Alameda county points and Oakland, the other class being mainly residents of East Oakland who live in those sections east and north of Schenectady Park.

Travel through East Fourteenth has increased so steadily that many residents of Oakland do not grasp its full significance, and are inclined to discount the possibilities of investment in East Fourteenth and other East Side property.

A prominent business man has heard to remark recently that he feared Oakland people would be so slow to grasp the opportunities of profitable real estate investment that outsiders would reap the main profits of the rise in values.

Manager Lawrence Block, in charge of Schenectady Park sales for California Subdivision Company, expresses the opinion that there has never been an opportunity in Oakland or elsewhere for more profitable investment on easy terms, with all expense paid for paving, sidewalk, sewer, water, telephones, gas and electric light connections than is offered here.

Ideal Sites for Factories Offered

Attention of industrial engineers all over the country has been attracted to the large area of level land east of Melrose and south of Schenectady Park offering ideal sites for factories, with truckage and truckage and a harbor almost at hand. Already students of city growth are prophesying that in the very near future it will be necessary to extend a street car line north on some street, presumably Seminary Avenue, to make more home area available for Melrose factory workers.

Industry Shown by Sale of Stoves

The rapid development of Fruitvale industry and business is indicated by Reliance Hardware and Furniture Company's success in the sale of Spark stoves and ranges made by Hammer-Bray Company, both manufacturer and merchant in this instance being located in Fruitvale.

Corner Sold for Store and Offices

It is stated by Fruitvale merchants that the southeast corner of Fruitvale Avenue and East Fourteenth street has been sold and that a store and office building will be erected. The purchaser is said to be a well-known Fruitvale firm who intend to erect a good grade of office and store buildings on the property.

East 14th Paving Soon Completed

About half the concrete has been poured and asphalt surface has been commenced for paving within and between the new tracks of the traction company between Fourteenth and Twenty-third avenues.

New Oil Cook Stove Placed on Market

A new oil cook stove, which has the cooking speed of gas, and which is being used as an all-year-round oil range, has been placed on the market by the Cleveland Metal Products Company, manufacturers of the New Perfection Oil Cook Stoves.

The new stove is credited with greater economy and reliability in cooking with kerosene oil.

The apparatus is finished in white porcelain enamel, and is therefore easy to keep clean.

The Good Housekeeping Institute and noted domestic science instructors have endorsed the New Perfection range with Superflex burners.

Rheumatism at 60

S. S. S. Thoroughly Rids the Body of Rheumatism Impurities.

Somebody's mother is suffering tonight! The source of rheumatism has wrecked her body; limping and suffering, bent forward, she gasps but the common ground, but her aged heart still belongs to the stars! Does anybody care? S. S. S. is one of the greatest blood-purifiers known, and it helps build more blood cells. Its medicinal ingredients are purely vegetable. It never disarranges the stomach. It is, in fact, a splendid tonic, a blood maker, a blood enricher. It banishes rheumatism from joints, muscles and the entire body. It builds firm flesh. It is what somebody's mother needs tonight! Mother, if you can not go out to get a bottle of S. S. S. yourself, send somebody in your family will. Somebody, get a bottle of S. S. S. now! Let somebody's mother begin to feel joyful again tonight. Maybe, maybe it's your mother! S. S. S. is sold at all drug stores, in two sizes. The larger size is the more economical.

Now glorious you will feel, mother, when your rheumatism is all gone. Let S. S. S. do it. It will build you up, too!

WOMEN M. P.'S TO SEEK RE-ELECTION DURING CONTEST

Lady Astor and Mrs. Wint-
ringham Affected By Test
At British Polls.

LONDON, Oct. 12 (By the Associated Press).—Odds of nearly two to one against an election before the end of the year are being accepted in the London insurance market notwithstanding the positive assertions in the press and in political circles that an appeal to the country before Christmas is inevitable. The discrepancy thus manifested is significant of the complete uncertainty surrounding the political situation for the moment.

One of the interesting features when an election is declared will be the number of women seeking the limelight of parliamentary life. The two present women members, Lady Astor and Mrs. Margaret Winttingham, are understood to desire re-election and nearly a score of others are already announced as candidates, the great majority being for Liberal and Labor constituencies.

The morning newspapers again give over their chief columns to discussions, predictions and supposed revelations. Prime Minister Lloyd George's friends continue to insist that he will not resign, while others assert with equal confidence that he has determined to ask the country for a vote of confidence at the polls and that his speech at Manchester on Saturday will be the first gun fired in the great electoral campaign.

There is general concurrence on one point, namely, that the crisis has been brought about by the restiveness of the rank and file of the conservatives, who are tired alike of the coalition government and Lloyd George's leadership and eager to get back to party lines. It is stated in several quarters, however, that the Conservative leaders in the coalition cabinet continue loyal to the premier, and that the situation in that respect is practically identical with the position when Lloyd George previously threatened to resign unless the Conservatives "gave greater support to his leadership."

OAKLAND URGED AS TERMINUS OF VICTORY ROAD

Oakland should be made the terminus of the Victory highway, according to Ben Blow, secretary of the Victory Highway Association, who addressed the Oakland Lions Club at its regular meeting here today.

The vast benefits that would come to Oakland and the other Eastbay cities by making the terminus of the transcontinental roadway were outlined by Blow.

Blow's address followed one by Guy M. Wolf, director of research for the California Road Estate Association, the principal speaker of the evening, who spoke on the proposed legislation to be voted on in November making changes in the present methods of granting franchises for public transportation companies. The proposed change would place the granting of these franchises under state control.

Dr. Suzallo Is Not Coming to Berkeley

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 12.—President Henry Suzallo of the University of Washington is not going to the University of California to succeed Dr. David P. A report that Dr. Suzallo was being considered by the board of regents of the University of California was met by him with the statement that he was "interested in the presidency of no university but that of Washington."

CUT IN FEDERAL EXPENSE URGED

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 12.—(By The Associated Press).—Reduction in all government expenditures as a means of curtailing the high taxes of the national and state governments was asked in a resolution presented to the American Mining Congress today. The resolution declared that "expenditures of our government can and should be materially reduced," by conforming such expenditures as are necessary to the minimum called for by sound common sense and business principles, and asked all citizens to give support to legislators, officials and other citizens who are striving to effect economies in government expenditures.

Hoseman Is Badly Injured in Leap

Hoseman Charles Kipke of the Oakland fire department is in St. Anthony's hospital today suffering from cranial injuries which are feared will be fatal as a result of a leap into a life net yesterday during a safety demonstration by the fire department.

Kipke leaped thirty feet into the net from the top of a building. The impact of his fall pulled the net from the holding it, and Kipke struck the pavement on his head. He was taken to the hospital, where it was discovered that he was suffering from a fractured skull and little hope is held out for his recovery.

The demonstration was being put on by the department for the benefit of the students of the Oakland High school, and previous to his accident, Kipke thrilled the audience with many daring stunts.

RHEUMATISM Leaves You Forever

Deep Seated Uric Acid Deposits
Are Dissolved and the Rheumatic
Poison Starts to Leave the System Within Twenty-four Hours.

Every druggist in this county is authorized to say to every rheumatic sufferer that if a full pint bottle of Allenru, the sure conqueror of Rheumatism, does not show its way to stop the agony, reduce swollen joints and do away with even the slightest twinge of rheumatic pain, he will gladly return your money without comment.

Allenru has been tried and tested for years, and really marvelous results have been accomplished in the most severe cases where the suffering and agony was intense and pitiable and where the patient was helpless.

Mr. James H. Allen of Rochester, N. Y., the discoverer of Allenru, who for many years suffered the tortures of acute rheumatism, desires all sufferers to know that he does not want a cent of anyone's money unless Allenru decisively conquers this worst of all diseases, and he has instructed druggists to guarantee it as above in every instance. All druggists can supply you.—Advertisement.

STOMACH UPSET

Get at the Real Cause—Take
Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That's what thousands of stomach sufferers are doing now. Instead of taking tonics, or trying to patch up a poor digestion, they are attacking the real cause of the ailment—clogged liver and disordered bowels.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets arouse the liver in a soothing, healing way. When the liver and bowels are performing their natural functions, away goes indigestion and stomach troubles.

Have you a bad taste, coated tongue, poor appetite, a lazy, don't-care feeling, no ambition or energy, trouble with undigested foods? Take Olive Tablets, the substitute for castor.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. They do the work without griping, cramps or pain. Take one or two at bedtime for quick relief. Eat what you like, 15c and 30c.—Advertisement.

half interest in "Achievement Girl," a queen honey bee of the Amenia Apiaries, has been sold to J. M. Cutter & Son, Montgomery, Ala., for $150, setting a new record bee value, according to W. A. Curtis, manager of the Amenia bee farm.

The queen was mailed to Alabama, where she will spend the winter, to be returned to North Dakota next spring. She was a member of a colony which last summer set one of three world's records for honey production, according to Curtis.

An Announcement

The Central Pacific Railway Lines are to be separated from the stock ownership and operating control of the Southern Pacific Company of Kentucky, in accordance with the mandate of the United States Supreme Court of May 29, 1922. The Supreme Court's decision now goes to the United States District Court of Utah, where the details of the separation of the two properties will be formulated.

The Court's decision means the beginning of an era of active railway competition in California. This, in turn, means the opening of a period of intensive development, of growth in population and production, never before known in this State.

The Union Pacific has consistently stated that its primary interest is an independent Central Pacific for its connection at Ogden, free and untrammelled, so that it can co-operate with the Union Pacific in providing a high grade of transportation service and aid in the development of this territory. Such co-operation will insure a transcontinental route eastward through Ogden which will provide active competition with all other transcontinental routes.

The Union Pacific purposes henceforth to develop its legitimate interests in California. It confidently relies upon the justness and fair-mindedness of the citizens of this State. It asks for nothing more.

In the view of those sincerely interested in the upbuilding of California, the Supreme Court's decision is a great public victory. Transportation facilities will be increased. There can be no deterioration of those facilities.

The Supreme Court has safeguarded the public interest by providing that THERE WILL BE NO DISRUPTION OF EXISTING TRAFFIC ROUTES AND SERVICE.

The basis for rates into and out of California will remain unchanged. On business between the Southern Pacific and the Central Pacific in California, the one-line basis for computing rates should be continued. The Union Pacific, if it should come into control of the Central Pacific, commits itself in advance to this policy.

There will be no non-essential duplication of facilities. But there will be legitimate and timely expansion of facilities to meet the ever-increasing public demand.

The Union Pacific System

Findings of the U. S. Supreme Court As to Facts and the Law

These two great systems are normally competitive for the carrying trade in some parts from the east and middle west to the coast, and for the traffic moving to and from central and northern California, including a great volume of ocean-borne traffic which lands on the coast destined across the continent to the Atlantic seaboard and intermediate western and eastern points, or is destined from the latter points to foreign ports via San Francisco or other Pacific Coast points.

**** combinations, not the result of normal and natural growth and development, but springing from the formation of holding companies, or stock purchases, resulting in the unified control of different roads or systems, naturally competitive, constitute "a menace and a restraint upon that freedom of commerce which Congress intended to recognize and protect and which the public is entitled to have protected."

**** one system of railroad transportation cannot acquire another, nor a substantial and vital part thereof, when the effect of such acquisition is to suppress, or materially reduce the free and normal flow of competition in the channels of interstate trade.

In the instant case we are not dealing with the principle in the abstract. The proof is ample that the policy of the Southern Pacific system has been to favor transportation on its line by securing for itself, whenever practicable, the carriage of freight which would normally move eastward or westward over the shorter line of the Central Pacific Railroad and its connections, for its own much longer and wholly owned southern route.

The Court's Mandate

We direct that a decree be entered severing the control by the Southern Pacific of the Central Pacific by stock ownership or by lease. But, in accomplishing this purpose, so far as compatible therewith, the mortgage lien asserted in the brief filed for the Central Union Trust Company shall be protected.

In addition, the several terminal lines and cutoffs leading to San Francisco Bay which have been constructed or acquired during the unified control of the two systems for the purpose of affording direct or convenient access to the Bay and to the principal terminal facilities about the Bay should be dealt with, either by way of apportionment or by provisions for joint or common use, in such manner as will secure to both companies such full, convenient and ready access to the Bay and to terminal facilities thereon that each company will be able freely to compete with the other, to serve the public efficiently, and to accomplish the purpose of the legislation under which it was constructed. And a like course should be pursued in dealing with the lines extending from San Francisco Bay to Sacramento and to Portland, Oregon.

LUDLOW ELECTED AS GRAND SCRIBE BY ODD FELLOWS

Good of Tracy Chosen Grand Junior Warden; Pomona Gets Next Encampment.

MODESTO, Oct. 12.—M. H. Ludlow of San Francisco was elected grand scribe and George A. Good of Tracy was elected grand junior warden of the grand encampment I. O. O. F. at this

The vote for grand scribe was: Ludlow, 296; G. C. Hazelton of Oakland, 6, and F. J. Walter of Vallejo, 3.

This is the first time in a quarter of a century that a contest has developed in the encampment toward the election of a grand scribe. Ordinarily the position is held by one man for many years. Ludlow was appointed by the grand council officers on the death of William H. Earnest. The position carries an attractive salary as the grand scribe also becomes assistant adjutant general of the Patriarchs Militant.

Activities this morning included a session of the Military Council, which is composed of commissioned officers, retired commissioned officers and delegates from the cantons in the department. It was presided over by Major General C. H. Kornbeck, commanding the Patriarchs Militant.

An interesting feature was the presentation to the department of the jewel representing the grand decoration of chivalry which had honorably resigned. He was brought to the council by J. W.

Harris, grand treasurer of the grand lodge of California.
The auxiliary council voted to recommend that the decoration be conferred upon C. E. Benedict,
grand master of the lodge.
This recommendation
will go forward to the sovereign
grand lodge, which meets in Cincinnati in 1932, and is expected to observe the recommendation.

The big feature of the affair will be a serpentine race, and prizes will be awarded for the best characters costumes and the best dressed man and woman.

The ball will be opened with a grand march which will be led by Harry Gold, president of the Native Sons, and Mattie McStein, grand president of the Native Daughters of the Golden West.

The proceeds from the ball will go to the organization's athletic fund, and a similar event will be given each year for this purpose.

Tax on Estate

Declaring that James J. Maloney before his death on September 16 last, deeded his community interest in savings accounts amounting to $5857, liberty bonds valued at $5600 and other property of an unknown value to Mary Maloney without any consideration, Ray L. Riley, state controller, has petitioned the Superior Court to have the estate praised and an amount of inheritance tax fixed and collected. Maloney died without leaving a will, it is stated.

DENTIST DENIES WIFE'S CHARGES; CLAIMS CRUELTY

Dr. Moore Declares Wife
Threw Scissors and Celery
At Him.

Scissors, celery, dry bread and automobile engine trouble are mixed promiscuously in a cross-complaint yesterday filed by Dr. J. Franklin Moore, Oakland dentist, as a counter action to a suit for divorce instituted against him recently by Lillian B. Moore, society matron, now living at the Key Route Inn.

Dr. Moore denies each and every allegation made by his wife in her suit for divorce, and in turn charges her with many acts of cruelty. Included in the list is the throwing of a pair of scissors at him on one occasion. On another she threw celery at him, he charges.

Once in a while when the couple were preparing to leave their home in the family automobile, engine trouble would develop and he would have trouble in starting the machine. This would always give her great pleasure, he charges, saying that she would laugh and make fun of him because of the engine's failure to function properly.

Dr. Moore says that his wife made his life a burden with her continual charges against his character, particularly as relates to other women. His cross-complaint sets forth that she "falsely accused defendant and cross-complainant of chasing chickens night and morning."

He details many occasions on which his wife called up at his office, and changing her voice, addressed him in endearing terms, asking him if he was married and attempting to make an appointment with him outside of his office.

Dr. Moore denies his wife's claim that he is worth $50,000 and admits the ownership of $18,000 in community property, of which his wife now has $3000 he says.

The lecture will be given in the Exposition Auditorium.

SCHOOL STARTS MILLION DOLLAR BUILDING GROUP

BERKELEY, Oct. 12.—The Pacific School of Religion, oldest institution on the Pacific Coast for the training of ministers, today started on a new era following ceremonies yesterday marking the inauguration of R. Herman Frank Swartz as president and also celebrating the 60th anniversary of the institution's founding.

According to announcements made today by Dean William Frederic Bade, work will be started on a new building for the school, the first unit in a group of structures, which, when completed, will cost approximately $1,000,000. The library building is the gift of Charles Holbrook, retired capitalist of San Francisco and a member of the school's board of trustees. The building will be erected on the southwest corner of the present school grounds on Atherton and Ellsworth streets, between Allison and Bancroft ways.

Yesterday's gathering of delegates from 68 universities, colleges and theological seminaries, representing institutions in all parts of the country, was the most distinguished ever held at the local school.

Dr. Francis J. Van Horn of Oakland, president of the board of trustees, again carried out the tradition of presenting the school's charter to the new president at yesterday's ceremonies.

MRS. HARRISON BURNS TO DEATH IN CARMEL HOME

SAN LEANDRO, Oct. 12.—Mrs. Ella Reid Harrison, widow of Judge Ralph Chaffler Harrison of the Supreme Court of California, and niece of Whitelaw Reid, former United States Ambassador to England, was burned to death in her magnificent home at Carmel early this morning. The fire, which was discovered at 8 o'clock, destroyed the residence, the charred body of Mrs. Harrison being found in front of the gate.

Mrs. Harrison was 65 years old and a cripple. It is surmised that her kimono took fire when she lighted the grate, or that the fire was caused by a faulty electrical apparatus.

Mrs. Harrison was known to art lovers as being the possessor of one of the finest collections of Oriental art in existence. She had only recently built her splendid home to house her art exhibit, which also included a priceless collection of old books.

During the past month Mrs. Harrison had been planning a $25,000 library for Carmel, which she intended to build and donate in memory of her husband, who was for many years the president of the San Francisco Library board.

Last year Mrs. Harrison presented a splendid collection of rare old books to the city of Carmel.

400 Visit Hayward's 'S. F. Exhibit Hourly'

HAYWARD, Oct. 12.—Hayward's exhibit in the Industrial Exposition being held in the Civic Auditorium in San Francisco is attracting an average of 400 persons an hour, according to Captain D. E. Pearson, in charge of the exhibit. Captain Pearson said today that more inquiries than can be handled are being made about the exhibit, and that the number of persons visiting the exhibit is increasing daily.

"Very few people," he said, "realize that Hayward stands first in the pigeon industry in the world, nor the size of the poultry industry here. The variety of the products grown here, the size of flocks and the estimated returns per acre are all surprises to the general city resident of the Eastbay. I believe that through this exhibit a larger number of people have seen the advantages of their own action than by any other means."

For another, there's no limit to the number of pictures that any contestant may send in. And every one that is sent increases the sender's chances of winning one of the valuable prizes listed in the next column by just that much.

Another important point is that where you might not be greatly impressed with a particular subject yourself, it might nevertheless happen to make a unique hit with the judges. The pictures submitted in the contest are to be judged largely from the standpoint of human interest, and others might see a picture elements of interest which you did not intend to be impressed.

This does not mean that absolute "duds" should be submitted, by which is meant pictures that awaken no particular response in the reader's imagination or emotions. It simply means that, if the picture is good enough to make you consider sending it, there's no good reason why you should not send it along and try your luck with it.

Here are the conditions of the contest:

All photos submitted must be of Eastbay scenes, incidents or persons. Contestants, in order to be eligible, must live in the Eastbay. The contest closes October 27.

Contestants will send one contact print AND THE NEGATIVE. The latter is necessary that we may make our own newspaper enlargements. Negatives will be returned if stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent.

Address all entries to Photo Editor, Oakland Tribune.

Description of photo must accompany each entry.

BANDIT KILLED AS STOLEN CAR SKIDS, HITS TREE

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—One man was killed and two others seriously injured today when a racing car, claimed by Harry O'Donnell, was stolen from him, skidded into a curb while speeding along Riverside drive and swerved headlong into a tree.

Joseph Deagon of New York, captured against the tree and instantly killed. Edward O'Donnell and Edward McKee, both chauffeurs, were dug from the wreckage and taken to a hospital, then to jail to be booked on charges of homicide.

The speedster, an unknown make, was found at 70 miles an hour. A California driver's license made out to O'Donnell and bearing his signature and photograph, enabled the police to establish ownership of the wrecked machine.

It was later found that a New York hotel, having come here to see the world's series, he said.

MOTION PICTURE PROBLEMS TOLD CLUB OF WRITERS

Head of Photoplay Corporation Says Original Story Supplanting Adaptation.

The problems of the motion picture are the greatest in modern civilization, according to Frederick Palmer, president of the Photoplay Corporation of Hollywood, addressing members of the California Writers' Club following the October dinner in the Young Women's Christian Association last night. Palmer and Mrs. Kate Corbaley, head of the sales department of the Palmer corporation, were the guests of honor. Several scores of the local writers who are giving attention to screen drama were present. Charles Keeler, president, presided as chairman.

Palmer declared that the American people had come to take movies as a matter of course in reviewing the development of the eighth art. California he designated as the birthplace of motion picture, the first attempt at action photography having been made to settle a wager over whether the feet of a racehorse left the ground at the same time. A daily attendance of 15,000,000 people is registered at the 18,000 moving picture theaters and "legitimate" theaters where films are shown, according to the Hollywood expert.

Elevation of the art and standards of the silent drama were urged by Palmer, who stressed the point that the big, clean film was the best seller at the box office. Now the story written originally for the screen was superseding the adapted story was pointed out by the speaker.

The market for the good scenario is always waiting, Mrs. Corbaley told the local writers. In purchasing a film story, a producer will choose a writer over a poor play by a well-known author, the sales manager declared. Mrs. Corbaley answered many questions of the dinner guests regarding scenario writing and placement.

Announcement was made by the Palmer Photoplay Corporation executives that within sixty days work would be started on the first production of the concern in the southern states.

BOMB WRECKS SAN BERNARDINO GROCERY STORE

Front of Building in Pass City Is Blown Out By Explosion.

SAN BERNARDINO, Oct. 12.—The front end of a grocery store at 751 Mt. Vernon avenue was blown out by a bomb explosion at 11 o'clock last night, as terrorists renewed violence here. Seth Challa, a newspaper reporter, gave chase to an automobile that was speeding from the scene and two shots were fired at him. The men escaped.

Following the dynamiting of a Southern Pacific freight car at Colton yesterday morning, and the announcement by the Santa Fe that a jug containing dynamite and a timing device had been taken from the water tank of a locomotive at Victorville, officers said last night's bombing meant that efforts were being made to inaugurate a reign of terror.

MUSIC AND DANCE ARE FOLLOWED BY TERRORS OF FIRE

Passengers Watch Burning of Ship From Small Boats Launched.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 12.—(United Press).—Over 250 men, women, and children rode a placid, trackless sea 500 miles off the coast of Mexico today in open boats, silent, helpless actors, most of them, in another of the great dramas of the sea.

They were the men and women and children who were aboard the liner City of Honolulu, when, at 5:30 o'clock this morning, the alarm of fire spread terror through the ship.

Less than five hours later they had been ordered over sides in small boats, to stand by and watch the end by fire of the palatial ship on which the night before, they had dined and danced 'till midnight.

As the hours wore on, they waited; saw the flames eating away at their ship and wondered when help would come.

The yacht Casiana, private floating palace of Edward L. Doheny, noted oil magnate, came near during the morning and spoke the little group of lifeboats, hovering at safe distances from the burning vessel.

It flashed the word to radio stations ashore that "all hands are safe" and the sea "placid as a lake."

It picked up word that the freighter Enterprise, the U. S. Army Transport Thomas and the freighter West Farrallone were racing against time to the rescue—with perhaps the Thomas leading the race and due after midnight tonight.

But the drama of it all was being played by unseen, almost unknown forces, of the air. The radio was flashing the word from the open waters of the Pacific to the mainland, directing the movements of rescue ships and helping in giving succor.

Without the radio, the fate of these people would have been to ride in the Pacific, hundreds of miles from the nearest land, food and water scarce, until some chance wayfarer of the sea passed by and saved them.

It was 6:30 this morning when the first word came. It simply reported the vessel afloat and gave no details.

There was nothing more until 9 o'clock, when the Radio Corporation of America here picked up a message that the boats were being launched.

An hour later the radio told that all had left except those whom traditions of the sea say must stay to the last—the captain, the mate, the chief engineer and the radio operator.

ALL DRIVEN OVERBOARD.
Only twelve minutes, however, were they able to stand their ground against the fierceness of the flames. Then, with the fire licking about him so close that his clothes were scorched, Radio Operator Bell said, "Goodbye," and leaped for his life, together with his three companions, into the water, where they were picked up by a waiting boat.

Reports as to the number of passengers aboard vary slightly. The company offices in San Pedro, Cal., said 76 passengers and 192 crew made up the complement of humanity which the vessel carried. Men, accustomed to the ways of the sea, saw little danger of loss of life. In a calm sea, the boats could ride for days they said, and the question of food and water and perhaps exposure of the women and children would be the main difficulties to fight against.

The vessel, they said, had comfortable accommodations for at least 300 passengers and crew in her small boats and for more if emergency required.

The weather was not rigorous and, with the dangers of transfer to the small boats safely behind, no loss of life was expected.

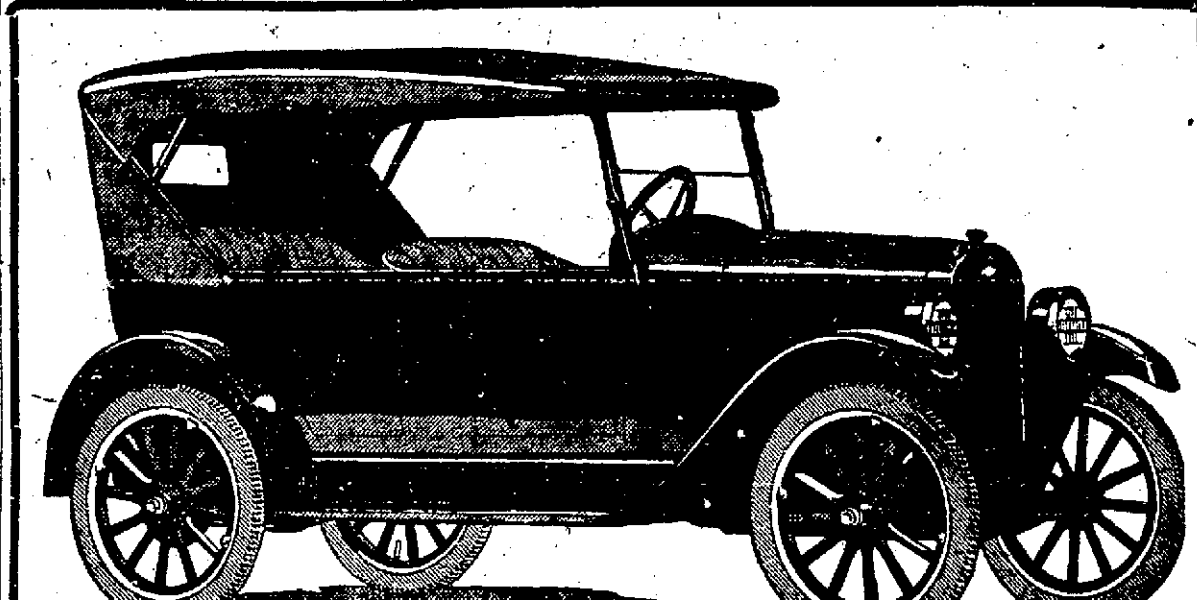

The passengers for the most part were returning tourists who had spent the summer at Hawaiian Island resorts.

Police Hunting for Grape Thefts Suspect
LODI, Oct. 11.—The local police and the sheriff's office are searching for J. Demos, local produce buyer, who is charged with the theft of grapes from the vineyard of George E. Lawrence, Lodi grower.

The officers captured his truck loaded with grapes, but the driver, believed to have been Demos, leaped from his seat and escaped in the darkness, allowing the machine to run wild. It plowed across the road and crashed into a telephone pole. He has not appeared since at his place of residence.

Demos was recently arrested at Manteca and fined $10 on a charge of carrying a concealed weapon.

Like a Giant Health Officer the watershed lands protect you

THINK OF A MAN so great that he could keep constant and minute vigilance over approximately 42,000 acres of land.

Visualize a giant provided with Nature's most potent purifying agents, together with a profound knowledge of hygienic laws.

Imagine a person so powerful, so all-seeing and so reliable that he would guard you, and every other human in this community from menace, year in and year out, and you will have some conception of what the East Bay Water Company's watershed lands mean to the people of this section.

The beautiful hills back of the Bay cities are of the mightiest importance in safeguarding the health of the citizens. Their surfaces, covered with gravel, earth, grass, trees and foliage, form natural aerators and filters that help to purify the "run-off" waters before they reach the impounding reservoirs of this Company.

To insure the effectiveness of these watershed lands, the East Bay Water Company keeps them well patrolled and groomed. Hikers and campers are warned away from the streams. Human habitation is kept at a minimum and is allowed only under the most stringent conditions. Strict rules for sanitation are enforced.

You should be interested in this effort to keep the water you drink pure at its source. Your co-operation is vital for your own self-protection. The watershed lands are responsible, in a great measure, for the purity of the water served by this Company. Remember that.

FARRAR TO SELL SOUVENIRS OF ROMANCE, OPERA

Gorgeous Costumes, Wigs, Gems of Stage, Love Career Displayed for Auction.

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—"Memories for sale" will be tucked above the doors of four big chambers at the Fifth Avenue Auction Rooms, which were thrown open yesterday for public inspection of effects of Geraldine Farrar, scheduled to be sold at public auction next Friday and Saturday.

For into those chambers America's most famous diva had crowded all the physical mementos of her long and brilliant career on the Metropolitan stage, and all that could remind her of her equally famous, but more brief and less successful career as the wife of Lou Tellegen.

OPERA, ROMANCE END. Gorgeous costumes, wigs, shawls and jewels that she wore in her most famous roles are there in profusion. So are the rich furnishings of the home she occupied with her famous actor-husband—furniture, tapestries, rugs, even the rubber doormat with its initial "T."

Farrar's thorough with opera, as she is with romance. The exhibition opened yesterday, drew throngs of Farrar devotees—from first nighters who were present a decade and a half ago when she made her metropolitan debut, down to the youngest Gerry Flappers who have watched with breathless awe Gerry's career as opera donna and a siren, as a bride and a near-divorcee. And what they saw established forever Farrar's reputation for lavishness. There are $75 items, all—every single one fraught with memories of stage or shattered romance.

About twenty of the diva's most famous costumes are draped on headless dummies in one of the exhibition chambers, and these are the red-spangled fro-frou creation that dazzled first-nighters at "Zaza," the cloth of silver gown, with American flag draped from the shoulder, in which Farrar sang during the Liberty Loan campaign, and the court dress of silver cloth, with queen's cape of blue velvet and ermine (reputed to cost $11,000), which she wore but three times in the ill-fated La Reine Fiamette.

HUMAN HAIR WIGS. Farrar's wigs also fill several showcases for the invariably covered her own black tresses with a wig, even in operas where her role called for cut hair. There are auburn wigs for Fiamette and Zaza; blonde wigs for Marguerite and Thais; light brown wigs for Manon; dark brown wigs for Alceste; black wigs for Butterfly and Carmen. All are of human hair, and some were worn in the early scenes of "Thais."

One of the most interesting Farrar hats on exhibition is the famous affair with the blue, yellow and green ostrich plumes, which she wore in "Tosca." The first night she wore it, it also contained a red feather. But this caused so many gasps that everybody agreed the red feather should be deleted.

EFFICIENCY IN EDUCATION URGED BY WILSON

Berkeley School Superintendent Says Useless Material Cumber Texts.

LINCOLN, Neb., Oct. 12.—Education must recognize the principle of efficiency operating in society and apply it in the improvement of its own practices and results. H. B. Wilson, superintendent of schools at Berkeley, Cal., told members of the Nebraska State Teachers' Association here today.

Studies of the content in elementary curricula have already shown that there is more useless, functionless material in the ordinary texts in arithmetic, geography, physiology, language and grammar than there is material of value, he declared.

"We must be willing to apply to our methods and to our products standards appropriate to judge of our work which are correspondingly as severe as those applied in the field of business," Superintendent Wilson said. "There is no place in an up-to-date business institution for that which is merely fairly good, or for that which is dead or obsolete or seriously out of date."

WOULD IMPROVE COURSE. "The course of study now in effect in schools should be improved by eliminating large quantities of useless, obsolete, dead functionless material which exists in large quantities in every subject of study in the elementary and high schools and in the colleges and universities."

"The material in text books has accumulated by a gradual process of accretion. Until recently there was no careful effort to study the value of the material. One author after another copied from those who had written books before him."

SPELLING LISTS CUT. "Until recently this was true of spelling. Within the last few years the spelling lists have been cut down from 12,000 to 14,000 to 3,000 and 4,000 words. That which has been eliminated was useless and functionless. Corresponding eliminations can be made in all subjects of study."

The organization of the school must be planned in such a way as to differentiate the children in the various grades and subjects into groups of corresponding ability and approximately the same interest.

"This differentiation has been accomplished in a few of the leading cities of the country, but from the standpoint of all the children of the nation as a whole, they are being taught in classes of heterogeneous composition."

STATE. If your wife wants to cut her hair, and you object, take her to see "Bobbed Hair," starring Wanda Hawley now playing the State Theater and let her see what happened to Miss Hawley after she bobbed her hair. This clever picture is an amusing satire of the Greenwich Village set, but interwoven with this are certain humorous problems of the girl decorated with home surroundings, of the married flit and his wife and children.

The vaudeville now playing the State is especially interesting. "Feather Four Nest," a romance of the wee hours of the morning, will appeal to all. The Fox four are a quartette of dancing stars from war-stricken Belgium. Two great comedians, Welch & Hazelton, take many honors for laughs on this bill. The Morals Bros. & Daisy show feats of strength and dexterity. Bert Draper and Gwendolyn Hendry have a clever negro impersonation act.

CENTURY. Jack Russell and Walter Spencer are packing the Century theater daily at every performance of the merry musical revue, "Lead Me Your Wife," in which they demonstrate the exact boundaries of what one man can do for his friend.

The story of the revue is rich in comic situations. Russell is a young married man, and Spencer is the rather down-at-heel nephew of a rich uncle. For the purpose of securing the friendship and good will of the uncle, Spencer informs him he is married and has a large family. The uncle so overjoyed that he decides to give the nephew a large sum of money, much to the sorrow and discomfort of the latter.

The young nephew borrows Russell's money and buys a blind, The uncle arrives and the rest is funny. Coming next week is Russell, Spencer, Miss Hildebrand, and the rest of the company in the greatest laugh fest of them all, "The New Mama."

EX-FIRE CHIEF'S PENSION UPHELD BY STATE COURT

City Loses in Demand of Elliott Whitehead For Retirement Benefit.

The State Supreme Court today sustained the demand of Elliott Whitehead, former fire chief of Oakland, for a retirement pension on the basis of twenty-five years' service in the Oakland fire department.

By this ruling, the City of Oakland loses in its contention that Whitehead lost his status as a civil service employee of the city when he accepted the position of fire chief several years ago.

The supreme court's decision upholds the action taken by the District Court of Appeals, which held that Whitehead was entitled to the pension he demanded.

The decision in the case of former Fire Chief Whitehead, as announced yesterday, parallels that handed down several months ago in the Petersen case, to the extent that it recognizes the right of the city council to grant a civil service employee a leave of absence in order to permit him to accept an appointive position, without impairing his civil service standing.

The city's opposition to Whitehead's claim for a pension was based upon the contention, that although he had been twenty-five years in the city's employ, part of this time he had been on leave of absence from his civil service position, while serving as chief of the department. It was held that he had no right to his civil service position, while occupying the higher position. This contention has now been overruled by both the Appellate Court and the Supreme Court.

Polar Bears Battle Brown One to Death

HAMBURG, Oct. 12.—(By the Associated Press)—One brown bear cannot whip two Polar bears. This was proved in an impromptu battle staged in the Hamburg zoological gardens yesterday when brownie slipped unnoticed into an adjoining cage during cleaning operations.

The visiting bruin stood amazed when he found himself confronted by two snarling antagonists who had always appeared as friendly neighbors. Enraged at his reception, he courted fight and got it. His cries of distress were taken up by the other inmates of the zoo and the air was soon filled with the clamor of hundreds of beasts.

A pugilist who had been visiting a net cub went to the rescue of the brown bear and succeeded in driving one of his enemies into the next cage. Then he won his bout with the other with the aid of a club.

Brownie limped back to his own cage, but died in a few minutes from his wounds.

Milenar tried to drive over a grade crossing in front of the train, according to eye witnesses.

CITY PAYS HONORS TO COLUMBUS

430th Anniversary of Discovery of America Celebrated in Schools and By Public in the Bay Cities

Columbus Day—the 430th anniversary of the discovery of America—is being celebrated in an appropriate manner throughout the bay region today.

Although the city hall's offices are all closed, the schools are continuing as usual, with special ceremonies at each school in celebration of the day.

The career of Columbus and his discovery of America form the topic of programs which are being presented at all the schools. Schools which have many Spanish and Italian pupils are making a special observance of the day.

PROCLAMATION BY MAYOR.
 Mayor Davis has issued a Columbus Day proclamation, which follows:

"To the People of Oakland:
 Thursday, October 12, is the 430th anniversary of the discovery of America and is being observed throughout the United States as Columbus Day.

"When, in 1492, Columbus set sail for that first voyage across the Atlantic, he had no conception that the land which he discovered would eventually become the most powerful nation in the entire world.

"With the passing of the years, the name of Columbus has been irrevocably linked with the discovery and with the history of our great nation, and it is only fitting and proper that the anniversary of his landing upon the American soil should be given a special observance.

"The Italian organizations of Oakland are arranging a special program in honor of the day and, as Mayor of this city, I am glad to call the attention of our people to this anniversary with the knowledge that they will realize and cooperate as fully as possible in some observance of Columbus Day.

"JOHN L. DAVIS,
 Mayor of the City of Oakland."

The Safety Scout Club of the Marquette school celebrated the day with a play and appropriate decorations. A program in which practically every Italian organization in the city participated began at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

FEIETE AN AUDITORIUM.
 In San Francisco the day was observed with a celebration at the municipal auditorium under auspices of the citizens' committee.

Lewis F. Brington was the principal speaker and musical features included songs by Miss Marguerite McElroy, soprano, and organ solos by Uda Waldrop.

On Sunday the second part of the observance will be held at Aquatic park at the foot of Van Ness avenue, San Francisco. The landing of Columbus and his crew will be shown in a water pageant and the Order of Redmen will impersonate Indians.

There will be canoe races, swimming and diving exhibitions and boxing and wrestling matches.

Tonight in San Francisco there will be a concert and ball in Scottish Rite Hall. James A. Bacigalupi, president of the Italian Catholic Union, will act as chairman. The Columbus day celebration will be delivered by Brother Leo of St. Mary's College, and the city of San Francisco will be officially represented by Mayor Rolph.

Members of the St. Francis Assembly, Fourth Degree, Knights of Columbus, will hold their annual Columbus day ball tonight at the Palace Hotel.

Free Tickets Sent Here for Stock Show
 A stock of several thousand complimentary tickets to the live stock show in San Francisco was received today by Assistant Superintendent of Schools Lewis B. Avery, and will be distributed to the schools to children desiring to attend.

The boards of education of all the bay cities have been given similar complimentary tickets.

The live stock show opens at Twelfth and Market, San Francisco, Saturday.

"Billy" Brackett Will Be Custodian

William ("Billy") Brackett, former police sergeant and later the Oakland representative of a packing concern, is slated to be appointed to the newly created position of custodian of the Oakland auditorium, according to the authorities.

The position, under various guises, has meant the control and responsibility for the auditorium. The building started with a manager and since then there has been a superintendent and, more recently, a chief engineer. The latter position was abolished in order to abolish the incumbent and then the job was recreated with the title of head custodian.

EX-LEADER OF S. F. CAFE LIFE IS PUBLIC CHARGE

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 12.—Mrs. Effie Pope Hill Alsop, who attracted much attention in San Francisco's bright lights in 1915 with elaborate entertainments and café life, is today in Bellevue hospital, New York, listed as a victim of alcoholism, and a public charge.

It was just ten years ago, at the age of 17, that she was married to a man who later became a notable figure in the city.

She was 77 years old. She divorced her husband in 1916, after a riotous life in San Francisco, during which time she was wooed by "Little Johnny Henry" Payton, Broadway celebrity, and heir to John G. Payton's millions.

Mrs. Alsop was ejected not long ago from a Broadway café in New York for boisterous laughter and was arrested for refusing to pay a taxi bill.

Former Imperial Potentate Is Dead

FARGO, N. D., Oct. 12.—Frank Treat of Fargo, former Imperial potentate of the Mystic Shrine, died at his home here today. He was stricken with heart trouble.

Contract Let for Hospital Bridge

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 12.—Charles A. Bruce and Sons of Pleasanton will have the contract for building 200 feet of trestle and bridge work opposite Cresta Blanca, being a part of the construction preliminary to the building of the Livermore hospital for disabled United States war veterans.

This was assured today when it was learned that Matthew O'Brien, supervising architect, had recommended that the bid of the Bruce organization be accepted. The matter has to be finally passed upon in Washington.

Although plans for the hospital building itself have not yet been submitted, it was desired to begin the bridge construction and get the material on the property before the rainy season. James F. Walsh of San Francisco had the lowest bid for the gravel, cement and crushed rock and it was recommended that it also be accepted.

ALAMEDA, Oct. 12.—At a meeting of the United Republican club in Eagles' Hall last night Friend Richardson was endorsed for governor and Hiram W. Johnson for senator. The meeting was presided over by Ernest Pope, and plans were made for a mass meeting to be held in the council chambers of the city hall in the near future.

Berkeley Booze Burglar Suspect Put Behind Bars

BERKELEY, Oct. 12.—Wanted as a burglar who looted Berkeley wine cellars of choice liquors during the early part of last year, Edward F. Ferriss, 32, was turned over to the College City authorities today by the San Francisco police.

Ferriss will be charged with the burglary of the home of Dr. H. F. Maine, 3262 Claremont avenue, on April 1, 1921, of several hundred dollars in champagne and other wines.

He is also declared to have stolen liquors from the residence of Mrs. W. E. Meek, 2625 Le Conte avenue.

Ferriss is said to have made his escape at that time in an automobile stolen from the garage of S. F. Byron, 2707 Oxford avenue.

While being arrested in San Francisco Ferriss is declared to have attempted to kill the arresting officers.

Greatest Production of Year, Say Crowds Who See 'Manslaughter'

THOMAS MEIGHAN and LEATRICE JOY in a scene from "Manslaughter," now in its second week at the American Theatre.

Wonderful DeMille Production Still Draws Record-Breaking Throngs to American Theatre

A sensation in moving picture spheres, which has not been eclipsed by anything since "The Four Horsemen" is being created by "Manslaughter," the masterful Cecil E. DeMille production which is now being shown in its second week to capacity audiences at the American theatre.

The basis of "Manslaughter" is so opposite to that of "The Four Horsemen" that a comparison cannot be drawn. Both these pictures, however, will live as the two finest productions of the decade because of their powerful themes, strength of love story and flawless technique.

"Manslaughter" has been viewed by larger audiences during its first seven days and the American management states this to be due to the tribute paid the picture by those who have actually seen it.

The production boasts one of the best selected casts ever assembled by Paramount with Thomas Meighan as Dan O'Bannon the vigorous and honest district attorney; beautiful Leatrice Joy as Lydia Thorne, the arrogant society pet; Lois Wilson as Evans, a young mother sent to the penitentiary through Lydia's carelessness and several other notable stars in distinct roles.

Crowds eager to see the great picture are making it a point to attend the early afternoon and evening performances in order to miss the waiting night lines at the American.

A special musical setting to the production is provided by John Wharry Lewis and his orchestra.—Advertisement.

TUNNEL ROAD IS BLOCKED BY CAVE-IN

Main Inter-County Traffic Artery Will Be Closed For Week; Crews to Work Night and Day

The Tunnel road, connecting Alameda and Contra Costa counties, was blocked for about twenty-five feet today as a result of a cave-in which occurred in the extreme eastern end of the tunnel late yesterday.

It will take about a week to open the highway, officials said. Crews of men were put to work immediately clearing away the debris, and they will be kept at the task day and night until it is completed.

About ten tons of earth and a number of heavy timbers were brought down by the cave-in, and the rumble could be heard for a great distance. Workmen were repairing timbers in the roofing at the spot where the slide occurred narrowly escaped injury.

The break occurred at the same spot where timbers gave way under the pressure of the earth several years ago. The road was blocked for several days at that time, but yesterday's slide was more serious, according to a statement by officials of Contra Costa county.

Men were stationed at both exits of the tunnel to warn automobile drivers that they could not get through. The traffic on the road is always heavy.

The cave-in leaves automobilists the choice of two detours to reach Contra Costa county, officials said today. These are the Bay Shore highway and the Hayward-Dublin-San Ramon road. They are not advised to use the Franklin Canyon road, Summit road through the Berkeley hills, the San Pablo Dam road, the Redwood Canyon road or the Crow Canyon road, because of recent rains. It was stated, however, that the Crow Canyon roadway, with dry weather, be good for traveling within two or three days.

Free Board for Many More Ducks Offered by City

Arrivals 500 Short For Season Despite Variety of Attractions.

FREE BOARD—High class accommodations furnished gratis by the City of Oakland to migrating ducks. No applications turned down. First-class, roomy swimming facilities on Lake Merritt. Firms mud. No shotguns. No 1000 boats. Fine clump of tule reeds to be installed shortly. Visiting ducks may stay as long as they like.

This advertisement is published in hope of attracting more ducks to Lake Merritt, following announcement yesterday evening by Superintendent Lee Kerfoot of the park department that the arrivals thus far are fewer than usual for this season of the year.

Kerfoot asserts there are about 1000 ducks on the lake, but there should be 1500 by this date.

"Something is holding them up," says Kerfoot. "It may be that the hunters are unusually lucky or it may be that cold weather has come later in the North. We have plenty of ducks, but not quite what we expected, although a new influx may come next week."

The spring family is about all here. The mallards are arriving, but the aristocratic canvasbacks stays away until late in the season.

MINE KIN RELIEF FUND NOW $1900

Need of Bereaved Families Still Acute Points Out Committee in Charge; Three Make Donations

The fund which is being collected in Oakland to relieve the distress of the bereaved families of the Argonaut mine victims, now totals $1900 25, it is announced by the committee in charge, of which Harold Katschinsky is chairman.

The need of the widows, children and other dependents of the men who died at the bottom of the smoke and gas filled mine shaft, is however, still acute, and more money is required to buy food and warm clothing to the approaching winter. Today's contributions are: "A Friend," $10; "A Friend," 11 S. E. Tower, $1.

All contributions are acknowledged in THE TRIBUNE as they are received. The funds are forwarded to Mrs. Mary Warrington, president of the Alameda County Chapter of the American Red Cross at Jackson, through THE TRIBUNE. Mrs. Warrington and her fellow directors expend the money to the best advantage of the bereaved families.

Oakland Delegates Go to Legion Rally

Harry A. Nelson, Secretary of Oakland Post No. 5, American Legion, and E. Dutcher, Post Commander of Livermore Post, left Oakland this morning for New Orleans, where they will be delegates from Alameda County to the National Convention of the Legion, meeting in New Orleans, October 16-20.

Since its organization, Oakland Post or the Legion has made a practice of each Armistice Day, of decorating every grave of a World War Veteran in Oakland with an American flag. While it has been universal to decorate graves in this manner on Memorial Day, Nelson believes that Oakland Post is the only Legion Post to carry out the practice on Armistice Day.

It is the intention of the Alameda County delegates to bring the plan before the National Convention and urge its adoption as part of the national observance of Armistice Day.

COACH MADIGAN ANNOUNCES ST. MARY'S LINEUP FOR GAME WITH CALIFORNIA SATURDAY

MADIGAN BRINGING ST. MARY'S ELEVEN AROUND GRADUALLY

Red and Blue Will Not Be Fully Equipped in Offensive Football by Saturday; Team Lacks Reserve Strength.

By DOUG MONTELL

Undaunted by the fact that the Golden Bears are figured on as certain winners Saturday, Coach Edward P. Madigan reviewed the situation last night at practice and then proceeded to put his men through as stiff a scrimmage as they have engaged in all season. Hard work is being resorted to by Madigan in an effort to wear off the rough edges that were showing in the first appearance of the Saints at Reno last Saturday and under his skillful handling the Red and Blue are rounding, slowly but surely, into a promising football team. But much as the Saints value the opportunity that presents itself Saturday, there are other games at stake later in the season which will mean more and the squad has been brought around accordingly.

St. Mary's will not be as good this year upon meeting California as they were last season when they held the Bears 21-0. They are not expected to hold the Californians that low Saturday. Last season the Bears invited the Saints out for the first game and played little in the line of offensive football against them while St. Mary's was all pepped up for the game and had everything at their command to use.

Santa Clara Is St. Mary's Goal

Madigan, with the Santa Clara game as his goal, the New Mexico game as his next most important contest and the trips to Arizona and the Hawaiian Islands looming ahead of him yet, has been busy giving his men a thorough drilling in rudimentary football. Against Nevada the Saints used but seven plays. Against California they will have but ten. The Bears, three weeks along on their football education for the season, will have more than a dozen plays that they can be expected to turn loose.

Superior reserve strength will enable the Bears to put in an entire new team the second half capable of running along as smoothly as the first eleven. St. Mary's, weaker than Santa Clara in reserve strength, with no men capable of taking the place of a first string man from tackle to tackle, should one be injured, will be forced to worry through with the same eleven men that start, barring a couple of backfield or end changes.

Madigan Selects St. Mary's Team

After scrimmage last night Madigan announced what is expected to be the team that will trot onto the field Saturday. The loss of Hungerford, star tackle, has forced a rearrangement of the line, while the excellent showing of Lester at end has made him a possible candidate for honors to replace Kauhane.

Murdoch, who played a star game at Nevada, and Kauhane are expected to start at ends with Stanley and Corrigan at tackles and Snow and Nelson guards. McNeill appears to have an edge over Mahoney for center.

The St. Mary's backfield will contain speed, for outside of Captain Black at quarterback, the Saints are fleet of foot. Prelli, former Fremont High all-around athlete, will be at one of the half back positions, while Grant will fill the other berth. Clarence Lane, noted Hawaiian flash, will be at fullback and Madigan is relying on Lane's

STARS WHO WILL PERFORM NEXT SATURDAY

St. Mary's will rely on speed to put up a strong showing against California next Saturday. The ends of the local college team are among the fastest men who will be seen in action. At the top are: MURDOCK (left), and LESTER (right), a pair of St. Mary's ends. Murdoch is a veteran while Lester is playing his first year. "IRON DUKE" MORRISON (below), a line plunger unexcelled in the West and a reliable punter, will be among the eleven reasons presented by California why St. Mary's should not win.

ming races, entertainment and cruises are also on the program.

This year the regatta went to southern California, and a week of wonderful racing was held. Next year, 1923, the regatta will be held on San Francisco bay and will be the largest affair of its kind ever held on the Pacific coast.

The association has started the ball rolling, and all the bay clubs are putting their shoulder to the wheel to make the affair a big event. As San Francisco bay is one of the finest yachting harbors in the world, they feel that an event of this kind will do a great deal towards bringing yachtsmen to this locality. As a boosting feature for northern California it will draw many visitors here to witness the races, etc.

Occidental Squad on Way to Nevada

Alameda and Centerville to Meet Saturday

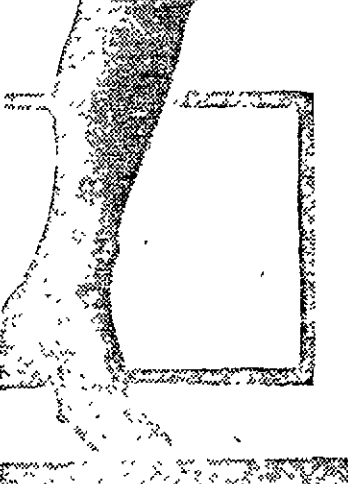

Alameda Gridders May Meet Berkeley in Game in Near Future.

The first A. C. A. L. game of the 1922 season will take place at Lincoln field, Alameda, at 10:30 a. m. Saturday, with Centerville High opposing the Alameda eleven. The results of this game will be of interest to high school football followers, as Alameda is expected to be the school to play Berkeley High for the honor of competing in the intercollegiate contests. The Red and Yellow crew will meet Coach Rittler's hopes November 15, and not on the 14th as was previously mentioned. Bill Brooks is showing up well in the Alameda backfield, and is looked upon to do much of the team's scoring. Jack Lum, who played at half is out for the rest of the season with heart trouble. Paula, end, is also laid up with a slight injury.

Oakland High has a strong nucleus for several more championship weight basketball teams. Left from last year's 90-pound squad are Norris, Baker, Yip and Underwood. The only two veterans out for the 100-pound team are Bristol and Goldstein. Ellison, Primrose, Fordney and Livermore are a few of the likely looking prospects for the 110s. The 110s have Thomas Quayle, Burpee and Chow for a foundation.

Preliminary weight basketball practice has been going on at Vocational High for the past week.

Aggie Squad Going Through Hard Practice

Several on O.A.C. Squad Are Out on Minor Injuries; Tryouts Are On.

CORVALLIS, Ore., Oct. 12.—Ten-minute scrimmages are the order of the day on the varsity football field. The short scrimmage is held in order to condition the men for the harder work that will start next week.

Bullen is out with a compound fracture of the hand. Ash is out with a twisted knee, and Hjelle is complaining of "Charley horses." These men will probably be out of the scrimmage for a week or more.

The team has been given no signals or plays, but men are given a shift to each side of the center to try them out. Coaches have been experimenting with every one in order to shape up the squad and determine a combination.

Four full teams were made up and put through their paces for ten minutes each. The first squad was composed of Scott and McFadden, ends; Looney and Micklewait, tackle field; Lyman and Clarke, guards; Rich, center; Garber, quarterback; Miller and Gill halves, and Toussy, full.

"PONY" BACKFIELD USED. A small or "pony" backfield was made up of Porterfield, quarter; Moore and Angie, halves, and Silver, fullback. These men are light but fast and hard hitters.

Sutherland-Ketchel Tonight at Vallejo

VALLEJO, Oct. 12.—A program of six bouts will be featured at the York street arena tonight by Messrs. Cole and Stevens. The main event is the talk of Solano and Napa counties as Roy Sutherland and Napa's Joe Ketchel. Another bout that is attracting the fans is to be staged by Obe O'Brien and Wop Manoleum. The other feature is to be between Saklor Cosibolin and Joe Bell.

Phil Douglas Fined for Being Disorderly

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Oct. 12.—(By International News Service.)—"Shufflin' Phil" Douglas, former star of the New York Giants pitching staff, pleaded guilty in police court here today to being drunk and disorderly and was fined $10, which he paid.

Douglas had been arrested on complaint of his wife, who complained Douglas had beat her.

AZEVEDO SURPRISES BY TAKING DECISION FROM EDDIE LANDON

Francis and Gorman Stage Great Slugging Match; Jack Russo and Abe Mishkind Break Even; Johnny Marvin Scores K. O.

By BOB SHAND.

Jimmy Duffy used only his left hand to beat Chick Roach at the Auditorium last night and he made such an artistic job of it that Chick is still wondering where Jimmy was all the time he was aiming at the Oakland flash. Had Duffy used his right there is no telling what might have happened to the Vallejo entry. As it was Duffy, fast as two bullets smacked Chick three times and then grabbed. Coming in he smacked him three times more and grabbed again. This was the procedure for three rounds and the monotony was not even varied by a Roach rally. Chick was willing enough but he went up against one of the best welterweights in the country and the acknowledged king of the little four-rounders. Roach punched Duffy on the back and on the shoulders and the smacks listened good even though they did not mean anything. Jack Britton and Duffy would make a good match. There is nothing in the four-round game that has any license in the same ring with him.

After the fight Trainer Harold Broom stated that Duffy had a cold and could not box his best. Duffy for Roach that Jimmy had that cold. Next time he boxes him he should demand that Duffy have six or eight colds and have one hand behind him. Duffy gave no explanation of not using his right hand except that he did not need it. Roach is a good game boy and no Barney Adair by any means. He tried hard in every round and took his beating gamely. He was simply out-classed.

Dundee Takes Every Round From Coffey.

Jimmy Dundee took every round from Joe Coffey and won under wraps. Dundee circled his man hooking him with both hands to the body and head and there was more steam than usual behind his punches. Coffey tried to speed up after losing the first round but he could never catch up with the Oakland lad who showed flashes of his old form at times. Dundee rocked him three times in the third and had Joe's mouth open at the going. Coffey tried to rush Dundee when the going soured for the fourth and he lammed James against the ropes. It was only a flash in the pan as Dundee resorted to his old circling methods and took the last half of the round.

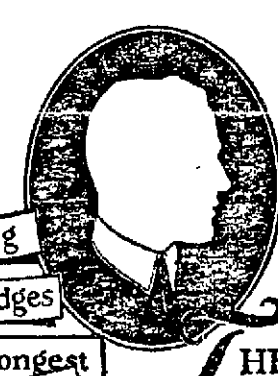

The surprise of the night was furnished by Joe Azevedo who won the decision over Eddie Landon. Landon out-boxed Joe in the first three rounds but Azevedo was doing heavy damage in the clinches and had Eddie worried. In the fourth Joe hooked a right hand to the chin that made Landon's knees sag and he appeared ready for the canvas. Azevedo lost his head or he didn't know how to finish his man. Landon rested up in a clinch for a few seconds but was rocked again as soon as Azevedo could get himself free. Landon stuck the limit but he was a mighty tired little four-rounder when it was all over.

Jack Russo made a fast finish against Abe Mishkind, who was awarded a draw. The bout was with Russo and got a wonderful kick out of his jumping tactics. Jack was knocked down in the third round but got up without taking a count. He rushed Abe in the last and had the better of this round.

Pete Francis and Eddie Gorman Box Fast Draw.

Pete Francis and Eddie Gorman boxed although the boys upstairs demanded a Francis verdict. For every punch that Francis landed on Gorman's chin Gorman landed one in the Francis stomach and he had Pete weak in the final round. These body punches are hard to see from upstairs on account of the angle and the light. From the inside of the ring it was a fifty-fifty proposition and it would have been a crime to have taken away the decision from either of them. The bout was one of the best of the night, both kids slug away with both hands. At any time a pair of willing youngsters stand toe to toe and slug without either backing up or showing signs of weakness it is a good draw. Discourage the boys with headline decisions and they'll start the fancy boxing again.

Walter Grayjacks, Kid Parker's half, portion fighter boxed a draw with Jack Burns. Grayjacks looks good but will do better when he holds less. Al Sheppard was stopped in the second round of the current raiser by Johnny Marvin.

Uncle Wiggly Stories

UNCLE WIGGLY AND THE GREEN CARPET

"We really must get a new one! Yes, we certainly need a new one!" exclaimed Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy one morning, soon after Uncle Wiggly had finished his breakfast of carrot pancakes with turnip maple sugar sprinkled around the edges.

"What is it we must get new, Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy?" asked Uncle Wiggly, as he twinkled his pink nose. "I hope it isn't a new bungalow, for this is going to be a hard winter and hard times and I don't want to make a new bungalow if we can help it."

"Oh, the bungalow is all right, very nice, in fact," spoke the muskrat lady housekeeper; but we do need a new carpet for the living room. The old one is full of holes and—"

"Well, if it is only full of holes I guess we'll have to make it do until spring," said Mr. Longears. "I don't want to buy a new carpet with hard times coming, and really we should not be fussy about a few holes."

"Oh, it isn't fussiness!" quickly said Nurse Jane. "But if I trip and stumble in one of the old carpet holes, and fall down and break a leg I can't get your meals or wash the dishes."

"Oh, that's different!" quickly exclaimed the rabbit gentleman. "I'll see about getting a new carpet at once. Not because you might not be able to get my meals if you broke your leg, Nurse Jane, but because I don't want you to be hurt. I'll hop away to see what I can do about a new carpet."

Uncle Wiggly twinkled his pink nose and hopped over the fields and through the woods. He was thinking and thinking and thinking of how he could get a new carpet for Nurse Jane, when really he didn't have the money.

"And the worst of it is," said Uncle Wiggly, "that none of my friends have any money to spare for new carpets. I can't ask Grandpa Goosey Gander, for he told me he had spent almost his last dollar for cornmeal to keep his family all winter. And Uncle Butter, the goat, hasn't any spare money, either. I wonder what I can do? I don't like an old carpet any more than Nurse Jane does, and I don't want her tripping and catching her paw in holes in the old carpet. Oh, dear, I wish I were rich.

Of course, once upon a time, as I have told you before, Uncle Wiggly found his fortune, and was a very rich rabbit—as rich rabbits go—but he had given away so much to his friends that, for a time, he was quite poor.

So, thinking and thinking and thinking of how he might get a new carpet, Uncle Wiggly hopped on through the woods until, all of a sudden, he felt himself caught up so quickly that he nearly fell down.

"No goodness!" exclaimed the bunny. "I guess I caught my paw in a loop of a wild grape vine, on the ground. That's the way Nurse Jane might catch her paw in a hole of the old carpet."

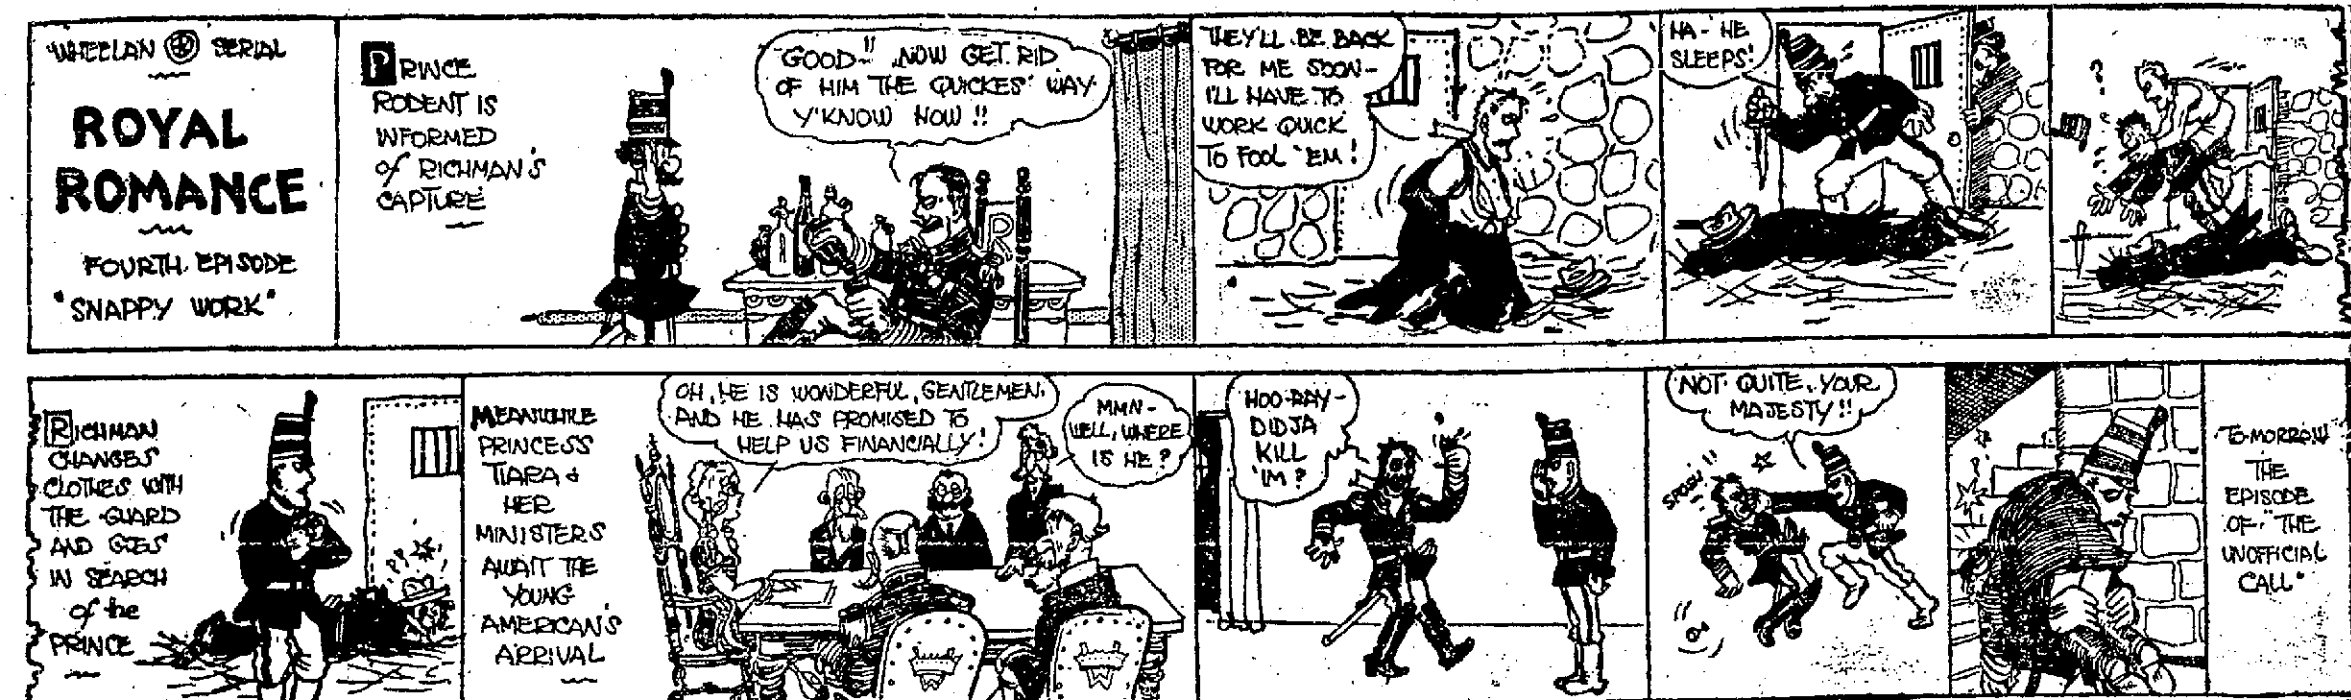

Uncle Wiggly scrambled up and was about to hop on, rather laughing to think how he had stumbled, when he felt himself still held tightly, and a voice hissed in ear:

"Now I have you!"

It was the Woolly Wolf! And indeed the bad chap had caught

Uncle Wiggly. The Wolf had been hiding in the bushes. He had thrust out his leg, tripped up the bunny and then had grabbed him.

"Now for some ear nibbles!" howled the Wolf. He was leaning over the bunny, nibbling his ears when, all at once, another harsh voice asked: "What about me? Don't I get any nibbles?"

There was the Fuzzy Fox! "Ho! I guess you don't get any nibbles when I caught Uncle Wiggly myself by tripping him!" sneered the Wolf. "Don't think for a moment, Mr. Fox, that I'm going to catch rabbits for you to nibble!"

"Well, if I can't have rabbit ears to nibble I'll have yours!" howled the Fox, and he made a jump to nip the Wolf.

"Oh, ho! Two can play at that game!" growled the Wolf. "If you nip me I'll nip you!"

But to do this the Wolf had to let go of Uncle Wiggly, and as soon as the two crossed, bad animals were nipping each other. Uncle Wiggly knew just what to do.

"I'll give a big jump and get away!" he thought to himself. So he gave a big jump into the air. "Oh, when I come down, as far away as I can, I am going to land hard—very hard!" thought poor Uncle Wiggly. I'll come down very hard and I may sprain my pink nose. But that is better than being nibbled!"

Up went the bunny, jumping far away from the bad animals. But when he came down he landed as softly as on a feather bed.

"How is this?" he asked, as far off in the woods, he heard the Fox and Wolf fighting. "What is this soft stuff I landed on?" And when he looked he found he had landed on a soft green mossy place that was like a feather bed.

"Oh, ho! Now I have an idea!" laughed the bunny. "I can take a lot of this soft, green moss and make a new carpet for Nurse Jane. I'll carpet the living room with green moss! Hurray for the new green carpet!"

And when the moss green carpet was laid, with the help of Uncle Wiggly's animal friends, Nurse Jane said it was the nicest carpet she could have wished for.

"And it didn't cost a penny," chuckled the rabbit.

MILLER HUGGINS IS RE-ENGAGED AS MANAGER OF YANKEES AND WILL HAVE FREE HAND

OWNERS OF YANKEES WILL LET M. HUGGINS SHAKE UP THEIR CLUB

Only Pilot to Lead New York Team to Flag in the American League Told to Make Any Changes He Sees Fit

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—Miller Huggins, whose re-engagement as manager of the New York Yankees for 1923 was announced yesterday, will have a free hand in organizing the team for next year, according to the owners of the baseball club.

The selection of Huggins for another year at the helm of the American League champions, set at rest reports that he was to be deposed because of the club's poor showing against the Giants in the world's series and was accompanied by expressions of confidence in the diminutive pilot by Jacob Ruppert and T. L. Huston, Yankee owners.

"Huggins will be in complete charge of the team," said Mr. Ruppert. "We are ready to make any trade that he thinks will strengthen the club."

Huggins has not been in the best of health and will undergo a minor operation at his home in Cincinnati, after a rest of a few days in Atlantic City, before beginning to plan for next year.

Huggins succeeded "Wild Bill" Donovan as manager of the Yankees in 1918 after numerous pilots had tried unsuccessfully to produce a championship club. He moved the club up to fourth place in 1918, third in 1919 and 1920 and landed pennant winners last year and this year.

Having no corner grocery stores where they could sit on crackers, boxes, smoke stogies and "chaw" tobacco, the fans of Gotham have horded down into the subway and ridden around town consulting bone specialists, muscle flubbers and psychoanalysts to find some one with whom to chew the rag about the world's series just ended.

There is more truth than foolishness about the psycho-analytical idea. One Yankee fan, unable to find balm in the box scores, approached a psychoanalyst and found out that Babe Ruth is almost the sole cause for his team's debacle. Babe didn't hit, so no one else did. Not that the team blindly emulated Ruth but that it could not avoid it.

"The mental suggestion was so strong that the whole thing is thoroughly simple," explained the psychoanalyst. "When the other members of the team saw that Ruth, the mightiest slugger ever developed, could not knock a ball out of the infield, they subconsciously remarked to themselves, 'Well, if Babe can't hit it, I know I can't. At any rate they didn't.'"

Other fans are calling for the scalp of Miller Huggins, the pint bottle sized tutor of the Yankees. Not much specifically is said about Huggins, but there's much about him in a general manner. Colonel Jacob Ruppert, president of the Yankees, answered the criticism without hesitation, by re-engaging Huggins for next year.

Ruppert realizes that Huggins is the only manager who ever piloted a New York American League team to victory, and too, those close to the Yankee owner declared that he believes Huggins won two successive pennants in spite of the headstrong and temperamental stars, more than because of them.

THEM DAYS IS GONE FOREVER

Harry Krause Closes Door On the Seals

Big Southpaw Uses His Head Besides Arm, and Wins Over McWeeney.

Jack (Dots) Miller, who is leading some twenty athletes in a drive to win the 1922 Pacific Coast League pennant for San Francisco, can claim he has one of the great ball clubs ever assembled in a minor league. Right now he has those boys leading the drive which has less than a week to go but the lead is so slim that the San Francisco fans and even the players on the club are worrying that they might be nosed out by the Vernon Tigers in the short time. The Seals opened a seven-game series with the Oaks at Recreation Park in San Francisco yesterday afternoon, and like they did against the Vernon Tigers last week, the Oaks played a championship baseball and were able to defeat the Seals 1 to 0. It was one of the classic ball games witnessed in the small park across the bay this season, for it is seldom that only one run is made in a regulation nine inning game on the other side of the bay.

Harry Krause, the Oakland southpaw, opposed Doug McWeeney, the tall Seal, on the mound, and the pair of heavies checked the horses hide so well that not even one ball was pitched.

The nearest that one came to it was when Ray Brubaker made Joe Kelly back against the left field bleacher fence to get his fly. The Oaks won the ball game because the out-smarted Doug McWeeney in the ninth. The tall Seal took delight in trying to "bust" the ball by the Oaks and for six innings he looked like a sure winner, for the Oaks could hardly touch him and while that was going on, Harry Krause was pitching an easy-steady game, and trusting to his brain as well as his pitching arm to carry him through. That is why he won the decision, as McWeeney trusted only to his strong right arm, and along about the seventh inning it showed signs of weakness. The ninth inning came along without a score for either team, so the Oaks played smart and started "waiting 'em out" on down town, and the big Seal went all to pieces.

OAKS MAKE McWEENEY PITCH. Brubaker was the first batter for the Oaks in the ninth. He stood near the plate and just made McWeeney try and put them over. The Seal was bothered by Brubaker's actions at the plate and issued a walk. Willie was an infield out and Brubaker moved to second. Ted Cather popped to Kamm, and McWeeney had orders to walk Lafayette who had already got two hits. The orders were followed and proved costly, for Cooper, like Brubaker, worked McWeeney for a walk to fill the bags. Next was Maderias, and McWeeney put over two perfect strikes. The young Oak fouled the next two pitches, and then stalled around until McWeeney issued four balls and a walk that forced Brubaker over with the winning run. McWeeney looked hapless on the hill, and should have been replaced by another pitcher, but Manager Miller hoped he could get his bearings in time. Kamm threw out Krause for the last out.

Krause pitched great ball throughout and fanned eight of the Seals. Seven scatter, hits were made off him in the second the bags were full with two out when Lafayette made a great one-hand stop of McWeeney's grounder over first and retired the side. In the first inning, Seals were on second and Willie Kamm. In the Seals' half of the ninth, Don Brown made a great running catch of Kidult's fouled fly near third base, and then took care of Agnew's line drive to left. Ray Miller went to bat for McWeeney and fanned.

Coffroth Will Construct New Merry-go-round

Tijuana Will Have a New Racetrack For the 1923 Season.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 12.—The construction of a new racing plant to cost $1,000,000, at Tijuana, Lower California, with ground for it to be broken November 30, was announced today by President James Wood Coffroth of the Tijuana Jockey club, in a long distance telephone conversation from New York with Lewis H. Falk, publicity director for the club.

President Coffroth advised the location of the new track would be on higher ground, where all danger of the racing being interrupted by heavy storm water would be eliminated. The present track as badly flooded in 1918 forcing suspension of racing for some time.

The new site will be southeast of the course now in use.

"The new track will be one and one-eighth miles, with several chutes, and will be modeled after Saratoga, the fastest in this country," said Coffroth. "The grand stand and club house will be of steel and concrete construction, and there will be electric lights in all stalls. The number of stalls will be considerably greater than the 1200 in the present plant."

"Need for a larger and more modern plant has been realized by the Jockey Club directors for the last two seasons, and so we have decided not to delay in beginning construction longer, as the plant now in use is inadequate."

"The new track will be ready for racing when we open the 1923 season."

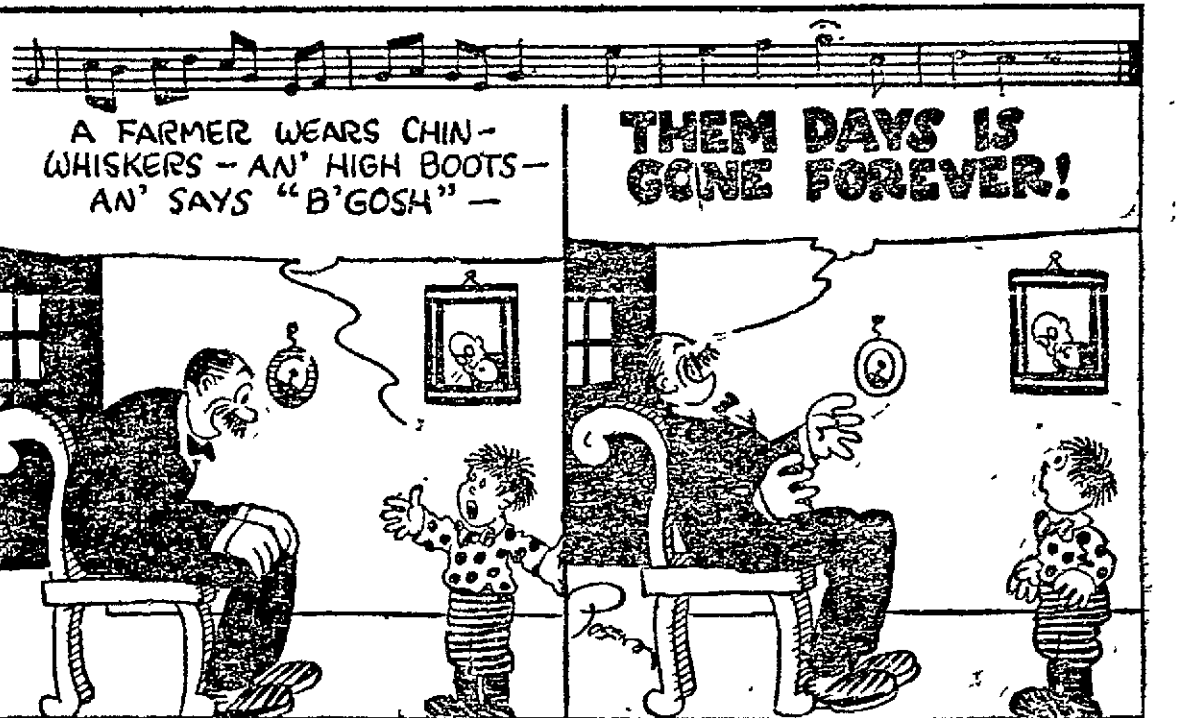

MOSCOW, Idaho, Oct. 14.—Plans are being made by the University of Idaho student body for chartering a special train Armistice Day to carry rooters and northern Idaho football fans to which friendly four day matches prevail followed by lunch or afternoon tea in the club house, where Mrs. Williams makes every one feel at home.

The tournament committee at Claremont will announce the dates of the inter-club matches with San Francisco, Sequoyah and San Jose Golf and Country clubs as soon as the president and directors' cup contest is concluded. The Claremonters recognize that match play is the real contest in golf, and have solved the problem of including practically every member of the club in such a contest at handicap. Unlike the old method adopted in the British amateur championship, where players were balloted from a hat and took their chances of being drawn against strong or weak players indiscriminately. The qualifying round at Claremont automatically arranges the pairing on an even basis, provided the players shoot to form.

The qualifying round for a trophy presented by Mrs. Norman de Vaux, takes place tomorrow at Sequoyah, when a record entry of women members is expected. Players who fail to make the first flight will compete in another flight for a second trophy. The draw for first round match play will take place as soon as all qualifiers have turned in their medal scores. The subsequent rounds of match play will continue until the ultimate winner triumphs over all of her opponents.

Next Thursday, October 19, the women players at Berkeley will stage an invitational tournament to which members of all the bay district clubs have been invited. The tournament promises to be one of the big events of the year. Today the members will hold their usual Thursday get-together meeting, at which friendly four day matches prevail followed by lunch or afternoon tea in the club house, where Mrs. Williams makes every one feel at home.

ARMOUR GIVES TESTIMONY IN GRAIN INQUIRY

President Marcy of Armour Company Also Witnesses Before U. S. Commission.

CHICAGO, Oct. 12.—J. Ogden Armour, packer, and George E. Marcy, president of Armour Grain Company, principal witnesses yesterday before the Federal Trade Commission in its inquiry of trading in grain futures, were in conference with attorneys today to determine to what extent they will reveal details of their grain transactions when they appear before the commission again tomorrow.

Declining yesterday to disclose the intimate details of their speculations, Armour and Marcy agreed to tell the commission tomorrow whether they would furnish all the dates and figures of their trades requested by the federal inquiry board.

Armour characterized himself as a "casual trader" in the grain market. He denied that Armour and Marcy, the packing house was interested in any grain deals in which he participated, asserting that the packing firm does not trade in grain futures.

In his preliminary testimony Armour said some of his grain trans-

California Anticipates Record Oil Production

The present trend of oil production in California indicates that all past production records for California will be broken during the year 1922. A careful estimate made by the state oil and gas supervisor shows that the production for 1922 will probably reach close to 130,000,000 barrels. The total production for 1921 was 114,500,000 barrels. About half of the oil now being produced daily comes from the new fields in Southern California. Huntington Beach, Long Beach and Santa Fe Springs practically all of the new drilling in California is concentrated in these fields and as many wells are being reported to drill each week as were reported, on an average week, throughout the entire state during 1921.

On September 15 Long Beach production had reached very closely the estimate of 100,000 barrels daily predicted for that date by the state oil and gas supervisor on July 15.

On July 15 Long Beach had sixty-two wells producing about 66,000 barrels daily and 137 wells drilling or re-drilling. It is probable that, due to the rapid decline of older producers, the peak of production has been reached at Long Beach. Several large producers have recently completed at Huntington Beach and the daily production of 25,000 barrels accredited to Huntington Beach on July 15 was increased to 45,000 barrels by October 1, with 167 wells producing and 108 wells drilling.

At Santa Fe Springs oil field the average daily production per well for forty-one producers is 1250 barrels, that is Santa Fe Springs was producing 51,000 barrels of oil daily on October 1, with 126 wells drilling or re-drilling. On July 15 the production at Santa Fe Springs was about 15,000 barrels per day.

In the new fields, therefore, as of October 1, there has been a net increase in production of about 84,000 barrels daily since the middle of July, the month in which there were two reductions in the price of crude at the well. Also on July 15, 1000 potential producers stood idle in various fields of the state, representing a closed-in production of 36,500 barrels of oil daily. Since the oil price has been shut down in older fields and on October 1, 1922, 1700 wells, with a potential production of 61,517 barrels daily stood shut in.

Oil field operations reported to State Oil and Gas Supervisor R. E. Collier during the week ending October 7, 1922, show thirty-three new wells started, as compared with 21 during the previous week. The total new wells this year is 1075 as compared with 1067 the same date last year.

EASTERN EDITOR DECRIES LACK OF TRANSPORTATION

Railway Expert Says Shortage
Limits All Production and Commerce.

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—Shortage of railroad transportation is "so great and serious that it is not only limiting but will for a long time continue to limit production and commerce of all kinds," Samuel O. Dunn, editor of the Railway Age, asserted at the annual convention of Associated Business Papers here today.

Almost every other condition is favorable to an increase of production and commerce and a revival of prosperity, he declared.

The present transportation situation was aggravated but not created by the coal and railway shortage strike, Dunn said. The condition is due mainly, he added, to a great industrial revival and commercial activity and to a long decline in the expansion of railroads.

"Production and commerce are trying to increase as much as they did after the panics of 1893 and 1907 and after the depression of 1914 and 1917," he said. "But the capacity of the railroads has not increased within recent years as it formerly did. This is the principal reason why, at the very beginning of this period of business revival the country is confronted with a shortage of transportation that is preventing the speeding up of production in the mines, the mills and factories."

"The reduction in the expansion of the railroads has been due to a policy of government regulation, which for fifteen years has reduced and restricted the net return earned by them."

"Under a ruling of the Interstate Commerce Commission they are now entitled to earn an average of 5 1/2 per cent. Thus far in 1922 they have earned 4 1/2 per cent. They can never raise enough capital to develop their facilities and handle the country's business until they can earn a larger net return."

"The public has persisted in regarding the railroad problem as chiefly one of rates. It will lose more in a short period by this lack of transportation than it has gained in the last ten years by keeping rates on a basis which has almost stopped railroad development."

ELGIN MOTORS BANKRUPT.

STANDARD OIL'S QUOTED VALUES SHOW INCREASE

Announcement of Dividends
Results in Gain Over Former Low Prices.

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—Sensational gains in the prices of shares of its companies in the Standard Oil group during the past week in response to the announcements of proposed stock dividends by two companies, and rumors of such action by several more have resulted in an appreciation of nearly $1,000,000,000 is quoted above the low prices of the year. This remarkable increase without precedent in the annals of Wall street, is the result of extensive speculation, which has extended to shares of other oil companies and of concerns holding large corporate surpluses.

Shares of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey at today's closing price of 23 3/4 shows an increase of $255,000,000. The market value of the Standard Oil of New York, at its high of today, showed an increase of $75,000,000 above the low of the year, while Standard Oil of Indiana has added more than $150,000,000 and Standard Oil of California $140,000,000 to their quoted values.

ALL SHOW INCREASE.
All of the other 32 units, which were split up by a decree of the United States Supreme Court in 1911, also show substantial increases. The first year of operation since that time having increased $3,000,000,000. Since the dissolution, the various units have distributed more than $1,000,000,000 in cash dividends, while the first year of operation since those announced this year, have a market value of an additional $1,000,000,000.

John D. Rockefeller is reported to have owned thirty per cent of the stock at the time of the dissolution decree. He is known to have disposed of a large part of his holdings to other members of his family, but had he held his original shares, they would have increased approximately $1,000,000,000 in eleven years of which nearly $400,000,000 would have been added this year.

Distribution of stock dividends is said to have been decided upon to forestall a tax on undivided surplus, which is reported to be in contemplation by administration officials, to take care of the government deficit. Stock dividends already have been held not subject to taxation, as such, by the United States Supreme Court.

The surplus account of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey was $594,535,563, as of December 31. The Atlantic refining company holds the record for the largest surplus in proportion to the stock outstanding. The surplus at the beginning of the year was $51,709,949 and the par value of the stock in the hands of the public $5,000,000.

EXCHANGES CLOSED.

Today being Columbus Day, a legal holiday, stock and bond, produce and other exchanges of the Bay District were closed for the day. The principal Eastern stock, grain and provision exchanges were also closed today.

DURANT COMPANY SAYS CAPACITY BUSINESS SURE.

A bulletin issued to the 80,000 stockholders of Durant Motors, Inc. and associated companies, states that capacity production for the next fifteen months is assured for all Durant plants, production scheduled calling for the manufacture of more than 800,000 automobiles.

The bulletin contains an announcement by President Carroll Downes of Star Motors, Inc., stating that orders for approximately one-half million Star cars have been received and that orders with deposits for $21,000 for Star cars have been accepted for delivery within fifteen months.

These Star cars together with all Durant plant models will be manufactured in Durant plants.

Approximately 40,000 Durant cars, with a wholesale value of $36,500,000, were built and marketed during the first year of operation ending October 1. Six Durant plants are now in operation, and a seventh, at Elizabeth, N. J., will be in production this month.

The stockholders are advised that "if the eighty-six American manufacturers of automobiles only five produced more cars than Durant in July, 1922."

The corporation's financial position is summarized as follows: "Due to the character of its contracts, both for the manufacture of its material and the sale and distribution of its products, Durant Motors, Inc. enters its second year of production with a substantial cash surplus, an exceptionally small plant investment for the volume of business contracted, and an unusually good prospect for continued profit making."

Smyrna Burning Hurts Fig Trade

The burning of Smyrna will seriously affect the American export of figs from that city, and American importers are already inquiring into other sources to supply the raisins, figs, currants, etc., usually secured from Smyrna. According to a cable just received from the representative of the United States Department of Commerce at Athens, the destruction of key bridges, railway equipment, and the Smyrna tunnel will result in a loss of approximately 70 per cent of the fig crop. The flight of expert Greek workmen from the invaded territory is also responsible for this loss, and it is estimated that the balance of the fig crop will be seriously injured.

THERE'S GOOD IN SAFE INVESTMENT

HAVE you ever stopped to consider that many of the conveniences and most of the necessities of life are made possible by the safe investment of your savings and the combined capital of thousands of people in high grade investment securities?

It's a fact!

These great institutions that supply us with utility service—electricity, gas, telephone, transportation—are creatures of safely invested capital. Industrial corporations throughout the country that are busily engaged in transforming raw resources into materials useful to men are creatures of safely invested capital.

Even our municipal improvements, our schools, parks, bridges, highways, our water systems, our governmental buildings are but the creations of safe investment.

Conservative bond issues, such as are underwritten and distributed by Blyth, Witter & Co., serve a two-fold purpose. To those with surplus wealth, they give investment of the highest integrity. To the nation at large, they give tribute in the good of safe investment.

Crop Producers Receiving Less

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—Producers of the principal crops in the United States were paid an average price of two per cent less for their products in September than in the previous months, according to figures compiled today by the Department of Agriculture. The levels of prices for meat animals decreased 24 per cent from August 15 to September 15, the department statement shows.

The September decrease on crop prices compares with an average decrease for September of 4 1/2 per cent over a 10-year period. In the case of meat animals, the 10-year average for the same period is only 1 1/2 per cent.

A Fundamental Reason

There is a fundamental reason why tax-exempt bonds are favored by many experienced investors.

Louis W. Hill, former business advisor for Mrs. James J. Hill, testified that beginning in 1916 and continuing until 1919, he disposed of taxable securities held by his principal, substituting therefor tax-free holdings and in this way increased her annual income from $365,000 to $730,000 a year.

Are you thoroughly familiar with the extent to which the tax factor affects the net income from your investments? We should be glad to make an analysis of your situation and recommend conservative tax-exempt investments suitable to your particular requirements.

Sound bonds which are entirely exempt from all State, all Federal, all County and all City taxes, with the exception of inheritance taxes, may be purchased to give the investor a net yield of as high as 5 1/4%.

Call at our office, or write, for complete information concerning tax-exempt securities.

Gus Henderson Full of Gloom Over Outlook

Trojans to Meet Arizona
Saturday; Forward Line
Showing Strength.

"Gloomy Gus" Henderson, the University of Southern California football mentor, has fallen into the last stage of hysteria. Henderson is filled with dark clouds on the football question, at his best, and since the game with the Alameda eleven he has decided that all the dice are three-sided and the cards have been stacked against him.

Until the fracas with the Trojan alumni the U. S. C. mentor had what he called a fairly balanced picture. After said game the balance had left in the second quarter and John Boyle, mentioned by Walter Camp for tackle, had been carried off the field shortly afterwards with a compound fracture of the leg as well as displacement of the bone.

An operation was performed on the star tackle and the injury was found to be much more serious than was first expected. Boyle will be in bed for four or five weeks and is out of the game for the rest of the season in order to get the leg back into functioning order again.

Although the Trojan line will miss John, the forward defense will not be without some strength. Captain Leo Calland at guard, Lowell Lindley, center; John Milton, end, will be the only three players back to take hold of the reins. But the ranks are rapidly filling up with last year's championship freshmen.

In the backfield Henderson expects to have one of the fastest combinations seen on the coast in a long time. Baker, Terman and the three backfielders who have played in the same positions during the grammar school and high school, are now ready to carry on their tricks for the Trojan varsity.

On October 14 this Cardinal and Gold aggregation bucks up against the Arizona Wildcats at Los Angeles. Although the betting is in favor of the Los Angeles institution, with Boyle's position still open and the Trojan team very weak on the kicking game, the Wildcats have a good chance to give the natives the surprise of their life.

Henderson has been waiting for a kick for some years and the more he solves the worse the punters get. Up to date he is about at the end of his string. Otto Anderson, the only punter in sight, boots the ball some 65 yards, but doesn't give any height to the piskin and the distance of the kick is all for nothing.

Head-all Coach "Gloomy Gus" wants a good team and he wants it bad. Modesto Promoter to Stage a Good Card.

Eddie Booth, who used to box around here, is promoting scraps at Modesto and thinks well of his initial success. He writes as follows, and also to wit:

Modesto, Cal., Oct. 10, 1922. Sports Editor, Oakland Tribune. Dear Sir: How's this for a card in the interior? Four main events and three preliminaries:

Steve Dalton vs. Al Delmar, (158).
Wildcat Barba vs. Bert Myers (150).
While Hoppe vs. Mike Gando (140).
Charlie Eris vs. Joe Herman, (135).
Sailor Lee vs. Jack Clavy, (160).
Joe Harris vs. Joe Livermore (135).
Babe Harris vs. Benny Tripoli (130).

That composes my initial card here in October 12 and if every bout isn't in a class by itself I'll take a back seat. My home is in Oakland and I collected a varied assortment of "medals" during the past 10 months. I know the boys.

Sincerely,
EDDIE BOOTH.

Billiard Stars of Europe Enter Play
NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—Two of Europe's leading billiard stars—Edouard Foreman, of Belgium, and Roger Conit, French champion, yesterday filed their entries for the international professional 15.2 balkline billiard championship, to be held November 13 to 21 at Hotel Pennsylvania. Each posted the required forfeit of $250.

Willie Hoppe, of New York, former 15.2 title holder, was the first to enter the tournament and will make a strong bid to regain the honors he lost last year to Jake Schaefer, at Chicago.

Schaefer recently arrived in New York and has announced he will end his entry before the end of the week.

Knighten Holds Basketball Meeting
KNIGHTEN, Oct. 11.—A meeting of the representatives of various athletic clubs of Contra Costa county was held at the Knighten club house last evening, the purpose being the consideration of the possibilities of a basketball league covering the county. Those present were in favor of the proposition.

A committee consisting of Ernest A. Peirano, Pittsburg athletic club; C. Walker, Willows athletic club, and H. W. Estates, Night Hawk athletic club were appointed to attend to the preliminary work of organization. A further meeting will be held at Pittsburg in the near future.

ADDITIONAL SPORTS Kerr Making Few Changes At Stanford

Cardinal Coach Replaces
Johnston With Neill;
Others Retain Jobs.

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Oct. 12.—After three days of sorting and figuring and scratching his head, Andy Kerr has settled on practically the same string of men who started last Saturday's game as his first team lineup. Neill, who outshone heavier men in the line last week, worked out at tackle last night in Chuck Johnston's place. This shift will not be permanent, however, for Johnston is out only temporarily with a bad leg. He is expected to be in shape again when the Cards meet the Missionaries in the stadium Saturday.

Old Stanford football men who saw in the Cardinals last Saturday declare that the trouble with Stanford was that the men were just plain scared. It was the first college football game for Johnston, Janssen, Cuddeback, Shipkey, Houck, Neill and Taylor, and was comparatively a new thing to everybody else on the team except Art Wilcox, Captain Dan DeGroot and Fred Ludeke. It was little wonder that at least eight green recruits should feel nervous when they took the field against an opponent as highly touted as the Olympic club. There was a whole lot to the psychology of the situation. The club line was said to be heavy, fast and mean. When they played with college boys, they ate 'em alive without salt and pepper. And when sars like King, Latham and Mars jump at green players in the first game of the season, the new men are not to be blamed for getting a bad case of buck awe.

The Olympic club game with its actual defeat was probably a good thing for the Cards. It showed them, showed up their faults, reduced any inflated opinion they might have had of themselves, and was a general good football lesson. The Cardinals, however, showed the several indications of good knowledge of the game in the fourth quarter was probably a result of recovery from the first scare. The men can use their heads when they are worried and frightened but the display of knowledge in the beginning of the fourth quarter was either a result of a terrible fright or a complete recovery from it.

When the Stanford eleven meets the Santa Clara varsity, the psychological advantages will all be in favor of the Cardinals. They have beaten Santa Clara in the past with poorer teams; they do not have to contend with "Bob" Evans' field generalship, and they have reason to believe that they are the better team. If they play a red hot game, they will be a set-up. Nobody from the "Farm" predicts an over-balanced score. But the players and rooters in general seem to think that the Cards have the best chance.

Coach Buckingham cannot boast either so heavy a line or so fast a backfield as Andy Kerr, but he has the advantage of having played several times in the last year. Practiced for at least two weeks longer. His backfield is not so versatile as Kerr's and his substitutes cannot compare with the Stanford reserve backfield.

Stanford rooters are hoping that Paul Murray will get a chance at a halfback position next Saturday. Because of constant injuries for the past two seasons, he has not appeared in the varsity lineup, but everybody agrees today that he is one of the best men available for the backfield. His foot was almost well last week, but Kerr refused to take any chances. For so light a man, he is far above the average as a line plunger, and as a broken field runner he has no equal on the squad unless it be Art Wilcox. Several of the Stanford rooters and players seem unable to reconcile themselves to a defeat in this first game of the season. They didn't think such bad luck could be possible. But if they will continue to scratch and Kerr and to learn from him, they will have reason before the season is over to replace lugubrious losses with a victorious smile. The Cards coach's dander is up. And if the Cardinals are to stand among people he meets in any way related to that same dander, Santa Clara has a job out for her Saturday.

Howard Jones Taking Iowa U. Team to Yale

Intercollegiate Grid Game
Finds Tad vs. Howard in Coaching Staff.

IOWA CITY, Ia., Oct. 12.—We hope to have all our regulars in the Yale game Saturday, and if we can throw our full strength into the contest Iowa should play a good game, was the only statement Coach Howard H. Jones, of the University of Iowa, would make yesterday afternoon as the Western Conference team left for Chicago en route to New Haven, where his players will meet those of his brother Tad's in the Yale bowl Saturday.

The announcement cheered Old Gold backers, however. They said it was an unofficial proof that John Heldt, center, and Leland Parkin, quarterback, who have been out because of injuries would start in the game against the Blue.

Iowa's farewell to her team was an inspiring one. More than 5000 students were at the station to bid the Hawkeyes players farewell and good luck. This is the first time Iowa players have traveled as far as New Haven to defend its colors.

Iowa's championship eleven of a year ago was one of the mid-west. With the same lightning spirit, Iowa promises to give Yale the fight of the year when the teams level off at the bottom of the Yale bowl Saturday afternoon.

Iowa's offense is a mixture of the old and new in football. The open style probably will be chiefly in evidence against Yale, as Coach Jones has developed a system of shifts that he thinks will be effective.

Although he lost seven letter men last year, his team has shown offensive strength this season. For years Iowa was one of the minor teams in the Western conference, a second division team that was considered as no more than a good trial horse for the major western elevens. Then came Howard Jones. His advent marked a new period in Iowa's athletics.

Then followed two years of bitter disappointment, while Iowa watched two championships fade by the barest of margins. One year an opponent's place kick drove the championship away just as it was settling at Iowa City. The second year a surprise outside kick ruined the Hawkeyes' dreams in the last moment of the deciding game. It was during these years that Iowa coined the slogan that last year's champion team made famous—"Iowa fights."

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio, Oct. 12.—Not since Tad and Howard Jones, when they, as mere boys, captained rival "scrub" football teams on the commons at Exello, near here, twenty-five years ago, has the population of that village been so excited over a gridiron battle as it is today over the Yale-Iowa clash scheduled at New Haven for next Saturday. The entire population of 160 has chosen sides and there is but one person who has not expressed a choice. That is Mrs. T. A. Jones, mother of the two mentors. She does not want either team to win.

"Let it be nothing to nothing," murmured the mother. "If either boy wins, let it be Howard," said the father. "The father will do him the most good." Both of the great coaches were born in Exello, where they began their careers in the old homestead founded by their grandfather.

Round the Sport Circle
By HENRY L. FARRELL, United Press Sports Editor.

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—United Press.—Success attending the introduction of boxing at the National League baseball park has developed a first class fight, involving no little politics, for the privilege at the new Yankee stadium.

Because the new home of the New York American League club will have a seating capacity of 100,000, rival promoters consider it the most valuable place for boxing around New York.

Tex Rickard is after the stadium with all the support he can muster. With boxing conducted in both the Manhattan field fields, his big promotion campaign in Jersey City will be worth just about the second-hand lumber in it. If he fails to get the Yankee stadium, and it is understood from reliable sources of information that he will, he will be out of luck entirely for summer boxing where the big money is centered.

Rickard also is being "smoked out" of Madison Square Garden, according to good information. Those who control the Garden recently approached a prominent matchmaker in New York and asked him if he would be willing to take charge of the big arena for the winter season. He said he would entertain an offer if he could be assured of a free hand in negotiations are said to be still pending.

Rickard is said to be in bad with Tammany Hall and if the state should go Democratic this fall, the politicians say that he will have to step down from the czar throne of boxing.

His czar power, hasn't been a "czar" recently as it was two years ago when he was in absolute control of boxing around New York.

Day Driscoll was the first to challenge the power of Rickard and he got away with it, so much so that other of the smaller promoters have taken heart and are actively competing against Rickard.

Driscoll is the matchmaker of the Brooklyn club in the fight department and he made a great

Football Facts worth knowing by SOL METZGER

Our end on a punt touched the ball first on the opponents 3-yard line. Defensive player then picked it up and ran with it to his 40-yard line. We claimed it was a touchback. Why wasn't it? A team may refuse the touchback allowed them when an outside player of other team ball shot out of his hands and into the end zone. Rule 5, Section 10-1 yard line. Rule 5, Section 15, and Note.

I saw a quarterback try to catch a punt on his 5-yard line. He fumbled it and the ball rolled back to his goal line, where another player of his team fell on it. Referee ruled play a safety. Wasn't it a touchback, as it was a punted ball?

A team may describe the play the impetus which sent ball over goal-line was given by player fumbling punt. It must have been a safety. Rule 6, last three paragraphs of Section 15. Our defensive back tried to tackle an opposing back carrying the ball through our line of scrimmage. He was tackled by another player and ball shot out of his hands and our back kicked it unintentionally. What is the rule?

The ball was loose and the penalty for kicking a loose ball is that opponents get a first down. It was kicked. Rule 20, Section 2.

Just what is the new rule about clipping from behind? Rule 21, Section 5 (c) defines clipping as "throwing the body from behind across the leg or legs (below the knees) of a player not carrying the ball. This, however, does not apply to close line play." Clipping is therefore, always on a man if you strike him from the side and then get a leg or legs below the knees with your body or legs. Whether it is clipping or not depends upon the judgment of the official noting it.

One of our players was hurt and could not walk. It happened just as time was up for the first quarter. The rules say no player or players may leave the field during this minute of play. They also say only one designated representative of a team can come onto the field. How can you legally remove such a player from the field?

A. Any official who prevents an injured man being carried from the field because of the technicalities of the rules, harsh treatment and should have no further assignments. Football has a code of honor higher than technicalities.

If a football player, please you, write Sol Metzger, care of our Sporting Editor, enclosing stamped return envelope. He'll give you a quick and correct decision.

"Rollie" Williams Wisconsin Captain
MADISON, Wis., Oct. 12.—"Rollie" Williams, Wisconsin super halfback, will captain the Big Ten Conference championship team Saturday.

Williams was the sensation of the west last year and his hurrying end runs gained him nation-wide recognition. But for a few hard breaks and his shift to the quarter-back position in the middle of the season, "Rollie" would have been an inside choice for all the great can squads. As it was, he ranked with the best in the country and his work will be closely watched this year.

The first real test of power between Rickard and Driscoll came in the skirmish to get Jimmy Wilde, the world's fly-weight champion, to come over from England and fight Pancho Villa, the American champion, for the title. Driscoll got the contract, but he couldn't back him on a bidding game.

Some interesting angles on ballpark boxing are brought out by Driscoll, who maintains that both the old Madison Square Garden and the new Yankee stadium are too big for boxing.

"Where are the fights that will draw 100,000 spectators? Dempsey and Willis, of course, but what others ones?" Driscoll says. "Drawing a crowd of boxing cards is a grossly overestimated and exaggerated. Ask the ordinary fan how many fights have drawn 20,000 at the gate and he will say off hand that there were at least a hundred. Tell him to name them over and he can't."

The Tribune-Bureau feather-weight championship fight in Jersey City in 1919 drew 46,500 at $1 and $2 and it made a record up to that time. The Dempsey-Carpenter fight is on record for 90,000, but that is a Jack-overestimation. Willie Jackson and Johnny Dundee drew a record at Madison Square Garden last winter when they drew 13,000. Benny Leonard and Jack Britton drew 18,000 this summer and Harry Willis and "Tut" Jackson drew the same for me in Brooklyn. Leonard and Kansas drew 20,000 at the gate in Chicago. Willis and Levisky drew 11,000. Where are the bouts that will outdraw them and what good are seats for 100,000 when you have a tough time getting 20,000 to a fight?"

C. W. Davis Succeeds Stanford Director

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Oct. 12.—Charles W. Davis, newly appointed director of intramural athletics here, arrived on the campus Tuesday and will begin the organization of intramural activities this week. Davis, who comes from Cleveland, Ohio, where he was director of physical education at Cleveland Heights high school, replaces C. S. Botsford who resigned his position here to become director of physical education at Reed college, Portland.

Besides being intramural director, Davis will instruct gymnasium classes and prepare second class minor sport teams for competition with California.

MASONS' GRAND LODGE TO ELECT HEADS TOMORROW

Delegates Consider Resolution to Bar All Sunday Meetings.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 12.—Routine business occupied the attention of the delegates to the 71st annual convention of the Grand Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons today.

The delegates gathered at the Masonic Temple early today to discuss business pertaining to the order and to act on a resolution prohibiting the advertisement of any Masonic gathering on a Sunday other than a funeral.

Tonight the grand lodge has designated Occidental Lodge, No. 22, for the purpose of conferring the third degree of Masonry for the visiting delegates. The ceremonies will take place in the Commandery Asylum in the Masonic Temple, Van Ness avenue and Sutter streets.

LODGE TO OFFICIATE.
The officers of Occidental Lodge who will be in charge are: Joseph H. Mohr, Jr., president; Ralph Kerr Marshall, junior warden; George W. Kemper, treasurer; Charles Lyman Haskell, secretary; Walter Godfrey Anderson, chaplain; Frederick W. Nish, senior deacon; Albert Daniel Hoffman, junior deacon; Alfred G. Schieck, marshal; John Watson Ellery, senior steward; Harrison A. Jones, junior steward; Boyd Oliver, Tyler; George Theodore Fischer.

Last night the Square and Compass Players, under the direction of Jesse M. Whitely, presented "The Legend of the Temple" in the Scottish Rite Auditorium before a large audience of Grand Lodge delegates and local Masons.

END DAY OF TOURING.
The presentation of the play marked the conclusion of a day of touring by the delegates, who started early yesterday morning for the Eastbay, where they viewed the site of the proposed Masonic clubhouse at the University of California, visited the points of interest about Oakland, and then went to Decoto for the annual tour of inspection at the Masonic home there. The delegates were the guests of the Alameda county Masons.

Tomorrow the sessions will be taken up with the election of officers for the ensuing year and the request of six lodges in San Francisco and Alameda for constitutions. William A. Sherman, general manager of the Merchants' Ice and Cold Storage company of San Francisco, is to be elected grand master.

TWENTIETH ST. WIDENING TO BE ON SOUTH SIDE

Council Adopts Resolution of Intention On $800,000 Project.

Contrary to expectations of many property owners, the $800,000 project for the widening of Twentieth street from San Pablo to Harrison is now aimed for the south side of the street. A resolution of intention to widen Twentieth forty feet on the south side, was adopted by the city council yesterday over the negative vote of Commissioner Edwards.

The original plans for the widening of Twentieth according to Commissioner W. J. Baccus and other officials, called for a 20-foot widening on each side of the street, setting the property line back that far and providing for the condemnation of enough property to allow for the broadened street.

$800,000 IS ESTIMATE.
The project, it is admitted, is now in its formative stages. The ultimate cost of widening this street, including the purchase of the necessary lands, is estimated by some to reach $800,000; but it is admitted that this is a matter of years.

Several realty experts assert that the providing of such a traffic artery means an incalculable benefit to commercial Oakland. The only question, according to city officials, concerns the method of widening.

WILLING TO SELL.

Many property owners on both sides of the street, it is admitted, have been sounded as to their views and are willing to sell to the city. The project for the widening of the south side exclusively, however, has not yet been estimated.

Some of the property will be hard to move, according to officials, no matter which side is widened; but the question which now confronts the engineering department is whether or not it will cost more to cut 20-foot strips off both sides, or the deeper 40-foot strip off the south side. This, according to the officials, is being looked into.

The property owners will have their say in council when the project day arrives.

Mrs. Beasley was granted a divorce by Superior Judge St. Sure.

Harding Sends Eulogy on Love For Children

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—Love for children was eulogized "as the tenderest sentiment of civilization" in a letter from President Harding, read today at the opening session here of the annual meeting of the American Child Hygiene association. The president's message, addressed to Secretary Herbert Hoover as retiring president of the association, praised the organization's efforts in co-ordinating child welfare work and conveyed the chief executive's best wishes for the future accomplishment. "I have been much interested," said President Harding's letter, "to know of the twelve years' successful work of the American Child Hygiene association. Regard for the importance of child care is almost as general as that personal love for children which is the tenderest sentiment of civilization."

"In serving 12 years as a co-ordinating agency for hundreds of active organizations, that work for the child, and in stimulating nationally the further growth of such effort, the association has rendered great service."

"Your work is one which, in our country, cannot lack for financial support, unselfish personal aid or high leadership. Accept my congratulations on your past accomplishments and my best wishes for the future."
